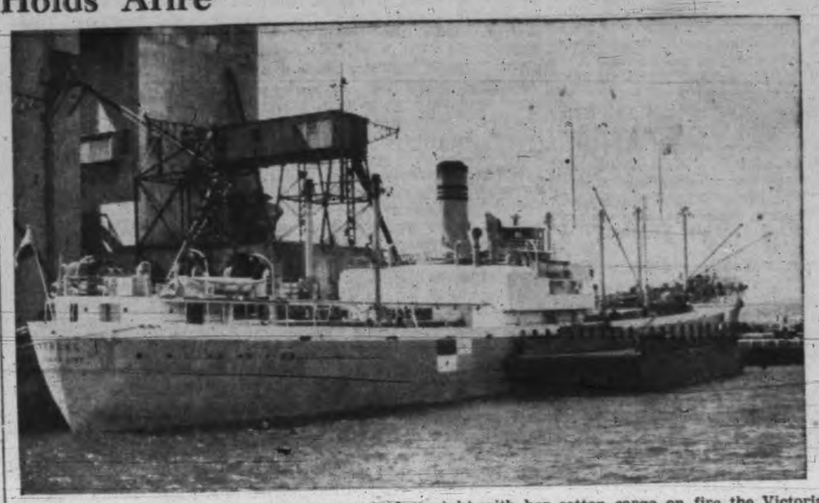
VOL. 96 NO. 101 — VICTORIA, B.C., MONDAY, APRIL 29, 1940—16 PAGES — PRICE FIVE CENTS

'Men Without Country'

Three seamen board the Greek steamer Penelope at Vancouver, Wash., on what they claim may be a "voyage of death." They cannot leave their ship on this side although they claim a return to Vladivostok, Russia, means certain death. Left to right: Leon Januscewski, Curt Jan Schaletzsky and Alexi Rudanoff. (Acme).

Holds Afire

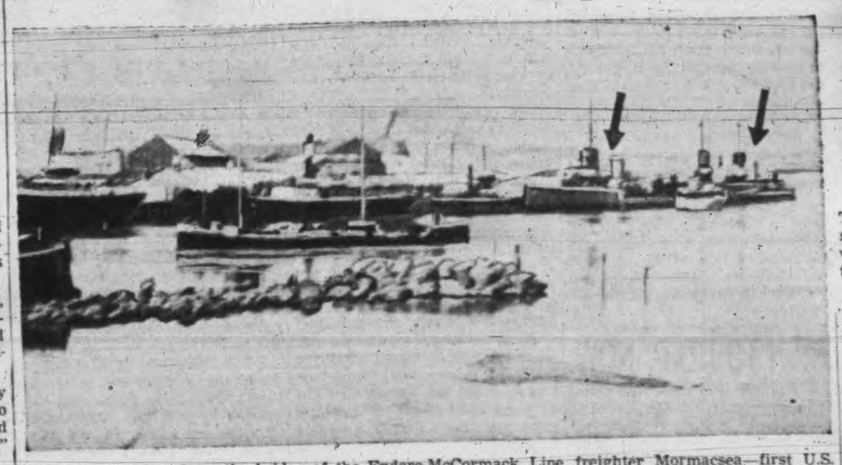


When the motorship Nordal put back to port last night with her cotton cargo on fire the Victoria Fire Department was on hand to pump water into the ship's forward holds. The fire was discovered when the vessel was 150 miles offshore, bound from Vancouver to Japan laden with a cargo of Texas cotton. The charred cotton bales were being unloaded today.

Safecrackers' Work

The office safe at the Home Oil Company, after safecrackers had worked on it half of last night, is shown above being examined by Ian Macdonald, clerk. The prowlers got $50 in cash and about $100 worth of gasoline coupons. After unsuccessfully attempting to blow the safe with fuses and detonator caps the thieves upended it and smashed the bottom in with the heavy bar shown in the picture and a hammer.

Without a Shot



This picture, taken from the bridge of the Endore-McCormack Line freighter Mormacsea—first U.S. vessel to arrive in New York since the outbreak of war in the north—shows peaceful Trondheim harbor the day that Trondheim was taken by Germans. Note the two German destroyers (arrows) tied up at the dock. (Acme telephoto).

Final Bulletins

CIVIC GAS STATION?

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver aldermen, meeting in civic utilities committee, voted today to ask Victoria for a charter amendment allowing the city to establish a civic service station.

The committee also decided to send a telegram to Premier Pattullo endorsing every effort the government may take "to bring about at once a renewal of gasoline distribution on a satisfactory basis."

Lapointe Sick

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Lapointe, who took ill on his private car while traveling from Quebec City to Ottawa, was taken to hospital when the train arrived today. His attending physicians this afternoon described his condition as "not serious."

He will be confined to hospital for at least a week.

5,000 Casualties

HONGKONG (AP) — Heavy fighting in Eastern Central China, with Chinese troops said to have inflicted 5,000 casualties on Japanese in Shansi province, and to have captured a town near the treaty port of Wuhu, was reported today in Chinese news dispatches.

Bomb Hospital Ship

SOMEWHERE IN NORWAY (CP-Reuters) — The Norwegian Telegraph Agency tonight announced a Norwegian hospital ship was heavily bombed by German planes off Alesund, 150 miles north of Bergen.

Five persons, including a doctor, were killed, the agency reported.

Ship Calls Aid

NORFOLK, Va., (AP)—The Greek steamship Thalia was reported in distress late this afternoon in a 60-mile gale about 350 miles east of the Virginia Capes.

CHAMBERLAIN DELAYS STATEMENT

LONDON (CP) — Prime Minister Chamberlain will probably not make his regular report tomorrow on the progress of the war, it was reported this evening in parliamentary circles. A statement may be made later in the week.

Clement Attlee, leader of the Labor opposition; Arthur Greenwood, deputy leader, and Sir Percy Harris and Lord Crewe, Liberals, called on Mr. Chamberlain at No. 10 Downing Street during the afternoon.

During the week-end, some members of Parliament, anxious over the Allied military campaign in Norway, demanded a secret sitting of the Commons unless Mr. Chamberlain should make a full statement to the House Tuesday.

Uneasiness was expressed by some members over Scandinavian frontier reports that Allied troops lacked equipment to cope with the Germans in the preliminary phases of the Norwegian campaign.

28 Nazi Ships Sunk Since April 8

LONDON (CP) — An official statement tonight said 28 German transports and supply ships have been sunk since April 8.

In addition, the statement said, 10 German ships were "hit by torpedoes and probably sunk," and one named the Maine was scuttled.

"The German expeditionary force also suffered losses due to mines since the Nazis embarked on their Scandinavian adventure," it added.

Earlier today the Air Ministry announced a Sunderland flying boat had bombed and sunk a German submarine trapped close to the Norwegian coast. The date of the encounter was not given.

An Admiralty communique today said:

"There is not the slightest truth in the claim of the German high command to have sunk or severely damaged during the past 48 hours five cruisers and 13 transports. In fact the enemy's determined attempt to render the waters of the Norwegian coast untenable have been attempted with but slight results.

"His Majesty's trawler Hammond, skipper A. McKay, Royal Naval Reserve, was damaged by a bomb and subsequently sunk, and His Majesty's trawler Larwoods, skipper P. J. Quinlan, Royal Naval Reserve, was set on fire by an incendiary bob. There were no casualties in either vessel.

"Three more enemy supply ships have been torpedoed and sunk."

'BRITAIN NEXT' LEY WARNS

BERLIN — Robert Ley, Nazi labor leader, speaking at Cologne and to shopworkers during the week-end, warned that Britain was next to be smashed, after the German forces consolidated their gains in Norway. He spoke of the Mediterranean as Italian "living space," and asked:

"What legal right have the French on Corsica? Napoleon, the great Corsican, was Italian?"

"What rights have the English on Malta and other islands in this sea?"

(Corsica, an insular segment of the French republic, lies off northern Italy. It has figured in times past in the Italian clamor for concessions from France.)

Ley said Germany and Italy would stand firmly together until victory, when "the English dragon-serpent will be vanquished."

Caradoc at San Pedro

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — The British light cruiser Caradoc, a visitor here several months ago, docked for refueling today. The craft's destination and most recent port of call were undisclosed. Under neutrality regulations she may remain only 24 hours.

Hirohito's Birthday

LONDON (CP)—The King today sent a message to Emperor Hirohito of Japan congratulating him on his 39th birthday anniversary.

Decisive Battles Soon in Norway

Heavier Blows by Allies As Nazis Try to Cut Railways

LONDON (CP) — The War Office in a communique this afternoon announced that the position in the Gudbrandsdalen, Norwegian valley through which German troops are seeking to drive on Dombas, was "unchanged."

The statement added:

"Heavy enemy air attacks have been carried out on the towns of Andalsnes and Molde.

"In the Namsos area there has been patrol activity.

"There is nothing further to report from Narvik."

ADMISSION BY NAZIS

BERLIN (AP)—The German news agency reported today heavy fighting was taking place between German and Allied forces at several points in the Norwegian mountains.

The Nazi agency, admitting for the first time German progress in Norway was meeting increasingly stiff opposition, said the British forces in Norway "obviously had received orders to strengthen their resistance."

Amplifying today's high command communique, the agency claimed the Germans, in capturing six Norwegian Batteries, had seized 20,000 artillery shells, a large number of portable wireless sets and quantities of miscellaneous war materials.

REPULSED AT STEINKJER

STOCKHOLM (AP)—German forces were reported tonight to have occupied Kvam, 35 miles southeast of Dombas, in their drive toward Trondheim, but to have been repelled in a violent attack on the Steinkjer fort, 50 miles northeast of that Nazi-held port.

The Germans earlier had been reported stalled at Kvam in their surge north toward the Dombas railroad junction, one of the British-held barriers to the Nazis' attempted approach to Trondheim from the south.

Fragmentary dispatches reaching Stockholm newspapers gave no details of developments either there or at Steinkjer, where, they said, German bombers had supported the attack.

Reports from Narvik, on the northern front, said fighting there had developed primarily into guerrilla warfare, with the British bombarding the fort periodically, apparently to prevent the Germans from sending reinforcements over the railroad terminating at Narvik.

ALLIED FORCES GROW

Meantime the Allies were putting up stout resistance to the invaders' effort to get troops across Norway to bolster Nazi-held Trondheim.

They held strategically-placed, strongly-defended machine gun nests and light artillery positions guarding narrow mountain roads northeast of Dombas in the Gudbrandsalen, and between Roros and Storen in the Glomma River valley.

German troops, driving over snowy mountain roads, were reported to have reached the vital railway linking British bases at Dombas and Storen. They were said to have engaged an Allied force in the first phase of a battle expected to decide control of southern Norway.

The fighting was reported sharp and some observers expressed belief a situation had been reached in which Allied troops may be able to take advantage of strategic defence positions.

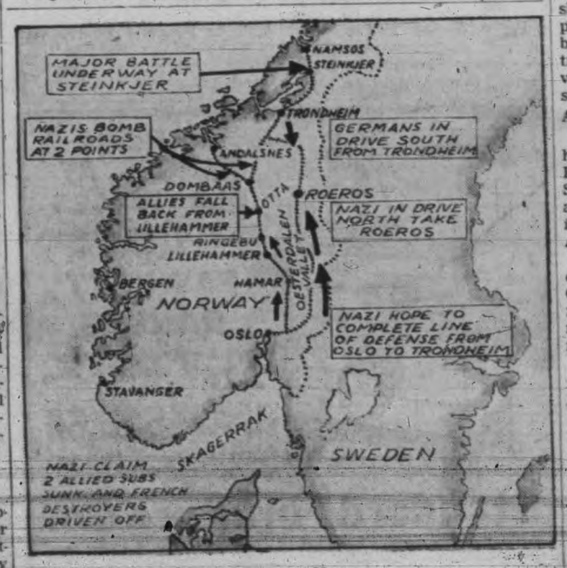
AT HJERKINN

Reports that British forces have concentrated troops at Hjerkinn, above the Dombas-Storen railway, and that fighting already is in progress there, were interpreted here as evidence that Allied resistance is hardening.

The Norwegian radio broadcast an announcement that a German column had struck at the railway at Hjerkinn, 20 miles north of Dombas, and about 80 miles south of Storen.

Success of the German attempt to cut the rail line at that point would isolate the British force at Storen, exposed to attack by German troops concentrated at Trondheim, 35 miles north.

Both British and Germans were reported rushing reinforcements to the Dombas front, and Swedish sources expressed belief that both sides were preparing to throw every ounce of strength into a decisive battle.



Battlefronts in Norway.

No Gas Yet

Combines Act Test On Oil Deadlock

The provincial government today countered refusal of oil distributors to sell gasoline by deciding to prosecute them under the Combines Investigation Act; and also by wiring Ottawa asking the federal government for an immediate investigation under the Combines Act into the operations of the companies.

This sensational turn in the four-day-old gas "strike" came after an abortive conference this morning between leaders of the oil industry and Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the Coal and Petroleum Products Control Board. Dr. Carrothers flatly rejected proposals of the oil companies for a temporary truce.

"The oil companies will welcome any such investigation," said T. E. H. Ellis, counsel for Petroleum Industries Ltd.

Essential Services Only Get Gasoline

Today's moves left motorists still without gasoline. All over the province retail service stations had run out of gas and only a few people, classed by the oil companies as essential services, were able to buy their gasoline in drum loads.

Premier Pattullo said the government had had no intimation from the oil companies they intended to proceed to sell gasoline as usual.

"The control board," he said, "has been prepared to immediately consider any representations which the companies might make in support of variation of order number 10, which provided for reduction of three cents per gallon of gasoline, and I may say that the government is prepared to consider any recommendation which the board might make in this regard. The companies have not concurred in this suggestion. It seems perfectly clear that they desire to be a law unto themselves."

Oil company leaders, in conference at the Empress Hotel after their futile meeting with Dr. Carrothers, were taken aback at the government decision, but shortly afterwards issued the brief statement that they would welcome the investigation.

In the Coal and Petroleum Board's offices on the fifth floor of the Central Building the nine men led by R. M. Pidgeon of the Imperial Oil Company went to see the board at 10.15 this morning.

Conference Ends In Deadlock

After the conference this morning the situation remained deadlocked, but Dr. Carrothers made three points clear to the oil leaders.

First, he reiterated the board would not recommend the rescinding of the price order, known as Regulation No. 10.

Second, he stated the board would not accept prices at other Pacific coast points as the basis for British Columbia prices. He claimed there was no relation between the operations down the coast and those in British Columbia.

Third, he denied the oil delegation's request for a further full inquiry into the whole gasoline situation, pointing out this had already been done by the Macdonald commission.

These were the main issues raised by the oil delegation.

Dr. Carrothers invited the industry to submit arguments as to how gas costs had been changed since Regulation No. 10 was promulgated last August.

"I have asked them to let me know anything that has taken place to affect their costs since the regulation was first issued," he said. "The board will give these matters the fullest consideration and make proper recommendation to the government."

Dr. Carrothers informed the delegation he should be able to make a recommendation within 24 hours after their submissions are made. He said their was no need to have the issue drawn out for a long period and any inconvenience the companies might suffer would only be for a short time.

Oil Companies' Case Against Reduction

In part, B. H. Ellis, counsel for the oil companies, submitted to the board today as arguments against the cut—"It is common knowledge that the war had materially increased the cost of the crude petroleum from which gasoline is refined in this province.

"In the rate of exchange, the cost of transportation, in the cost of insurance, and in other ways, prices have been so increased that no order made in July, 1939, can be justified now. The case was argued before the Supreme Court of Canada in the fall of 1939, and judgment was reserved till the twenty-third of this month. In the meantime, conversations were had with yourself, and the Attorney-General. Mr. Pidgeon and others of our members were told by the Attorney-General that the order, if upheld by the Supreme Court, would not be made effective until reviewed in consultation with the industry, because of the change in conditions resulting from the war. It is for these reasons that no formal request was made by the industry immediately following the pronouncement of judgment by the Supreme Court. This deals with the record to date. It is the future, however, which is of importtnce."

Say New Prices Would Be Ruinous

"The industry is confronted with an order which forbids it to sell gasoline except at prices which are below cost, and such as would be ruinous. The industry wishes to obey the law. Pending appeal to the Privy Council, the statute must be accepted as valid. In these circumstances our only course has been to refuse to sell at prices which are ruinous. In this we are strictly obeying the law. Your board and the government are the representatives of the people, and your order must be accepted as made on that basis. If the government decrees that the people shall not buy gasoline at commercially possible prices, and if as a result there is no available gasoline for their use, the responsibility does not rest on the companies. We recognize, however, that both parties may assert their respective rights to their common detriment, and that the impasse should be removed if possible. An appeal to the Privy Council must eventually take place. This, however, will require some time. A full enquiry into the cost structure and all the facts connected with the business of the industry will also entail delay, both for preparation and for hearing. We respectfully suggest that in the meantime a modified order be made, based on the prevailing Pacific coast prices. The industry will accept these prices, and will agree for the purposes of the interim order that they will not be higher than the prices which prevailed in this province prior to the application of order No. 10 last week.

London Loses Bulletin Boards

LONDON (CP) — Londoners lent a more attentive ear to the raucous voice of Cockney newspaper vendors today—for there were no bulletin boards to inform passersby of the war developments.

As part of the campaign to preserve the diminishing supply of newsprint, newspapers have decided to abandon the age-old practice of displaying a "contents bill," innovated prior to the Crimean War.

Usually these boards, in the first Great War, abandoned only in the last few months, carry the highlight of the day's news.

Some of the more generous "newsboys" — few of them are under middle age—displayed the front page of one or two papers, but generally their bulletin frames were blank.

The papers printed notices that vendors are unable to return unsold copies and at the same time appealed to readers not to destroy the paper, so it could be sent back to the mill.

Vancouver Choirs Win at Nanaimo

NANAIMO (CP)—Two Vancouver choirs scored successes at the 13th annual Upper Island Musical Festival here.

The Canadian Pacific Railway men's choir from Vncouver captured the Rotary Club Cup and the Torsvenor Singers took the Qualicum Cup in the women's division.

Both groups were awarded 166 points in their respective classes and will hold jointly the Vancouver Sun Cup for high points in the choral classes.

As the festival came to a close after seven days of competitions Saturday night, Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, spoke in praise of the committee which handled the festival.

He urged maintenance of musical societies which he said were of an important cultural value to the community.

VICTORIA CHOIR SECOND

The Nanaimo Men's Musical Club and the Victoria Masonic Choir tied for second place in the men's choir competition. Both were awarded 165 points.

A feature of the festival was the winning of the Rose Bowl competition by Rosaleen Bing, gifted Nanaimo mezzo soprano, who was selected out of a class of seven winners to hold the David Spencer Trophy for the coming year.

Following are Saturday's results:

Vocal solo and accompaniment under 15 years—Helen Pollock and Donalda McDairmid of Duncan, 79; Jacqueline Smith and Geraldine Tapay of Nanaimo, 78.

Vocal solo and accompaniment under 19 years—Loretta Ganner and Doris Marshall of Nanaimo, 74.

Vocal duet, girls under 15 years—Beverly Wilson and Irene Cottle of Nanaimo, 83; Jackie Stannard and Mary Rogers of Nanaimo, 82; Helen Pollock and Donolda McDairmid of Duncan, 81. Class 34, vocal duet for boys: Norman Jenkinson and Bobby Burns of Nanaimo, 83; Aubrey Reed and Bill John of Nanaimo, 82.

Vocal solo, tenor, open—W. W. Inglis of Victoria, 170.

Piano junior championship for the George A. Fletcher Music Company Cup — Audrey McVicker of Nanaimo.

Male voice quartette, open, for the C. H. Stockwell Cup—Nanaimo Men's Musical A, 82; Nanaimo Men's Musical B, 79.

Vocal duet, tenor and bass, open—Beverly Fyfe and Bob Hamilton of Nanaimo, 85; Dan Parfitt and Fred L. Mitchell of Victoria, 75.

Mackenzie King Talks With Hull

WASHINGTON (CP) — Cordell Hull, United States Secretary of State, said today he would want to confer further on the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway and power project before making any progress report on negotiations with Canada. Mr. Hull was questioned on this subject immediately after he had received Prime Minister Mackenzie King for a half-hour talk.

The secretary said Mr. King had called only to say goodbye and that they had not undertaken to go into any general discussions on government questions.

The Prime Minister called on President Roosevelt today to say goodbye before returning to Canada.

"It was just a friendly little call," Mr. King told reporters after 10 minutes with the President. "I thanked him for the very nice visit I had with him at Warm Springs."

Duke of Connaught Visits Canadians

ALDERSHOT (CP)—The Duke of Connaught, son of Queen Victoria, in his uniform as a field marshal, today paid a special visit to the Canadian training area to inspect the Royal Canadian Regiment and the Royal Army Medical Corps, two units of which he is colonel-in-chief.

His Royal Highness, who will observe his 90th birthday on Wednesday, drove from his residence at nearby Bagshot Park, Surrey, and spent 90 minutes at the Canadian camp.

The Duke and Major-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, head of the Canadian division, arrived at the Royal Canadian Regiment parade ground in a limousine.

Col. Hodson sat beside the Duke as they drove slowly up and down the ranks. Gen. McNaughton followed in another car, with other officers. Planes roared low overhead in salute during the inspection.

IRISH TO HELP, NOW

LONDON (CP) — Increased Irish economic aid for Britain's war effort was foreshadowed, some observers said today, in an announcement that two representatives of the Dublin government, Dr. James Ryan, Minister of Agriculture, and Sean Lemass, Minister of Supply, would come to London Tuesday to discuss "matters of mutual trade benefit" with the British government.

4 Soviet Fliers Killed

MOSCOW (AP) — Four men widely known in Russian aviation have been killed in an airplane accident. They were Pavel Golovin, Julian Piontkoffsky, Konstantin Alexandroff and V. Kolaidobroff.

Golovin was awarded the title hero of the Soviet Union for piloting a plane over the North Pole to rescue Ivan Papanin and a group of fellow scientists from an ice floe in 1937.

Tanks Running Dry

Stove Oil Used In One Car

The gas famine did not affect tourists in Victoria, except for the inconvenience of getting their gasoline from the wholesale plants.

The Victoria Publicity Bureau announced today that arrangements had been made with the oil companies to supply bonafide tourists with the gasoline they needed.

At the company's plants, said bureau officials, drivers of cars with foreign license plates who produced their driver's licenses showing they came from out of town, would be supplied with essential needs.

The stoppage of gas sales hit the provincial treasury a substanital smack. At this time of the year, with gasoline sales running around 4,500,000 gallons a month, the treasury collects about $10,000 a day in gasoline tax Every day the famine lasts the government will lose this much revenue.

Motorists who had not been able to fill up Friday and Saturday and found their tanks empty began to look for substitutes to keep their cars on the road.

USES STOVE OIL

Stove oil was used in one or two instances to keep cars rolling. One young man with an old model car, at the expense of a dollar and half for copper pipe and connections, changed the feed system of his old car and ran more or less merrily on Saturday and Sunday.

The experiment appeared a doubtful success at first as it took nearly a quart of gasoline to prime it. Later, however, he found a way to start it with a minimum amount of priming.

"When he car is warmed up you hardly notice the difference," he reported, "except that there is a little more noise and the car seems to have halitosis. But it gets you there and it gets you back, and it is very cheap. In fact it costs nothing because we use oil in the house and all I have to do is to help myself from the barrel. The gas war is all right with me. It has cut my running costs to the lowest possible minimum."

The other extreme was a driver who managed to salvage a supply of airplane gas.

"It's fine when I'm in low, but there's a tendency to take off when the car gets into high," he laughed.

A woman driving down the island made the last 20 miles on naphtha.

STREET CARS PACKED

VANCOUVER (CP) — Packed street cars carried thousands of office workers, clerks and businessmen to work today as motorists left their cars at home and British Columbia gasoline companies withheld their supplies of fuel for the fourth consecutive day.

A marked decrease in the number of automobiles usually seen on busy Vancouver streets was noticed.

Only two big stations were open in the downtown area and long lines of cars were strung out from their pumps, creating Vancouver's first traffic jams in years.

Both the stations obtained an injunction Saturday requiring delivery of 2,500 gallons of gasoline daily. However, motorists can obtain only a two-gallon maximum at each station.

Only two or three instances of stalled cars were reported over the week-end but for the most part motorists left their cars at home yesterday and today.

Telford Urges Federal Action

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mayor Lyle Telford said today he had wired Defence Minister Norman Rogers asking him to invoke the War Measures Act to force gasoline deliveries which oil companies suspended Friday rather than cut their wholesale prices three cents a gallon under a provincial government order.

The War Today

By GUY RHOADES

CRUCIAL WEEK

A battle for control of approaches to strategic Trondheim, German-held port on the Norwegian west coast, was reported today to have started between Storen and Roros as the Allies strove to block German reinforcements and effect an encirclement of Trondheim. This is a crucial week in the war as it likely will decide whether Germany or the Allies will win in Norway.

Observers believe the battle for Trondheim, expected to develop out of the present action, will be of major importance. If the Germans win they will succeed in cutting Norway in two, roughly along the line running from Oslo northwest to Trondheim. If the Allies win they will gain a much-needed port at which to land troops, and the most important railhead in western Norway.

The Germans, seeking to rush a line north to Trondheim, failed to outdistance the Allies, and now find themselves stiffly opposed. They have dug in and attempted to consolidate their position, none too secure because the advance had been so rapid that communication lines are imperfect.

ONE LOST CHANCE

Farther south the Allies appear to have lost, temporarily at least, the opportunity of cutting the Bergen-Oslo railway and attacking German forces at Bergen from the rear.

The logical way of doing this would be to land troops on the shores of the Hardanger Fjord. However, German troops were reported to have landed Friday at Ulvik, a small tourist resort at the head of the Fjord.

From Ulvik they drove north and reached the railway main line at Voss, a junction about 60 miles east of Bergen. The way to Voss lies over a steep but serviceable mountain highway to Granvin and from there over an electrified railway.

Ironically, there is at Ulvik a memorial to eight villagers lost at sea when their ships were torpedoed by German submarines or sunk by mines in the first Great War when Norway was able to remain neutral.

HUNGARY STALKS

Authorities were seriously concerned over the plight of Norwegian refugees, driven from their homes by savage bombing raids or frightened away by the German advance. Many of these people are without shelter, and it is still winter in Norway. They are reported short of food and lacking medical facilities.

In most of the northern and western points reported taken by the Germans there is no great abundance of home-grown produce because of the rocky, precipitous nature of the country. In some parts the Norwegians graze a small type of cattle, but most of their animals in those districts are sheep and goats.

Even where nothing has been destroyed the presence of hungry troops toward the end of the winter when stored food supplies naturally would be running low must place a grave strain on the resources of the people.

GIRL SPY DOOMED

PARIS (AP)—First death sentence for espionage passed by the Paris military tribunal and the second in France against a woman since the war began was pronounced today against Carmen Mory, 34, Swiss newspaperwoman.

Fritz Erner, 34, German movie producer arrested in October, 1938, at the same time as the Swiss journalist, also received the death penalty. Military authorities said the two were operating together.

The first woman condemned to death in France since the start of the war was Eugenie Lupz, German, sentenced in Marseille March 13.

DRESS STRIKE ENDS

MONTREAL (CP) — Settlement of the week-old strike of the silk dress section of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union was announced today after an all-night conference of representatives of the strikers and the Montreal Dress Manufacturers' Guild.

The strike started last Monday when nearly 5,000 workers in 60 plants walked out, seeking salary increases and a collective labor agreement.

2 Mosleyites Penalized

LONDON (CP)—Two men connected with Sir Oswald Mosley's British Union were ordered to post sureties of £25 ($110) or go to jail for six weeks in Thames court today for writing the words "Jew war" on the wall of a power plant office. The defendants were identified as Henry Hudge, 37, and Henry William, 34, both of Stepney.

Bombers May Fly Ocean

WASHINGTON (AP)—A British embassy official said today a project for flying bombing planes from Newfoundland to England has been under study for some time.

Hatties Camp, northwest of St. John's Field, has been mentioned as an air base that might be used for the 2,000-mile flight to England.

Italy Asks Trade Pact With Britain

LONDON (CP) — Italy has made diplomatic approaches to the British government for resumption of trade and economic negotiations, it was learned from official sources today.

Giuseppe Bastianini, Italian ambassador, had a long conference with Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, last Friday, at which the whole field of Anglo-Italian relations was reviewed.

It is considered probable British officials will go to Rome within the next few days to resume the negotiations for a trade agreement which were suspended in February, when the British authorities seized Italian ships carrying German coal.

Resumption of negotiations between the two countries is considered extremely significant in view of the recent anti-British tone of the Italian press and the truculent speeches of leading Fascists.

Contraband control will form part of any agreement signed by the British government, because one of the objects of all war trade pacts has been to cut into Germany's import and export business.

Keyes Urges Boldness

LONDON (CP) — Sir Roger Keyes, Admiral of the Fleet, speaking at a dinner Saturday night on the war in Norway, suggested the British government "remember the lessons of Gallipoli, where we failed for lack of a bold policy, and other expeditions on the Belgian coast, where boldness was repaid by success."

NO FORGIVENESS FOR NAZI CRIME

LONDON (CP)—"Herr von Ribbentrop, the German foreign minister, has made a much-advertised speech to the diplomats in Berlin," Sir Samuel Hoare, Air secretary, said in a broadcast speech here Saturday night. "We know this man. He is a dangerous adventurer who has played a sinister part in public affairs. No honest man would trust his word. No impartial neutral would believe what he says.

"I need, therefore, only say that it is a despicable lie to say that we have ever plotted against any neutral country and that it is sickening hypocrisy when this charge is made by the murderer of Czechoslovakia and Poland."

Sir Samuel said that in committing their crime in Norway Von Ribbentrop and Hitler picked their battlefield. The Allies "take up the challenge and there we must meet them with all the resources that we can develop, all the power that we can muster for the fight."

"The Germans worked stealthily," he continued. "They moved with treachery. They struck without warning. They stabbed in the back. They struck in defiance of God's law and man's law. And for that dark deed there can be no forgiveness here or hereafter."

In a message to the Norwegian people, Sir Samuel said Britain had the greatest navy in the world, and France the greatest army, and "the most skilful and gallant air force in the world, our own, are the guarantors of your liberation."

"Together we rejoice in the heroic leadership which King Haakon is giving. He is a true king, a real chieftain of a fighting race."

Prayers for Empire

PRESCOTT, Ont. (CP)—Rev. William C. McIntyre of Ogdensburg, N.Y., asked for divine blessing on "the British Empire's fight for right" during a sermon here yesterday at the 120th anniversary of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

"The Empire's victory means the salvation of the world and may she be given every aid to rid the world of rule by beasts," he said.

WHALING SEASON OPENS—First of the Consolidated Whaling Corporation's fleet to get into action this season will be the William Grant shown above leaving Point Ellice on Saturday afternoon for Rose Harbor, Queen Charlotte Islands. Inset, Capt. Pete Bransen on the bridge of the Grant. The other whalers, the Blue and the White, are taking on gear and stores, and will sail Wednesday for Rose Harbor.

At Ruined Namsos

Allied Commanders In Norway Confident

By ROBERT RIEFFEL

AALIED GENERAL HEADQUARTERS NEAR NAMSOS, Norway (CP-Havas)—French and British troops, some of them Canadian volunteers, protected by British planes aloft and ample anti-aircraft batteries on land, were moving today in business-like fashion into striking positions on the battlefronts north of Trondheim.

German aircraft, which until now bombed and strafed Allied troops almost at will, are now kept at a respectful height of 9,000 feet and more. They are able to do comparatively little damage.

This I was able to observe myself after a journey by sled over the mountains from Sweden into the Namsos area, where I had the good luck to meet both Gen. Odrian Carton de Wiart, commander of the British forces, and Gen. Marie Emile Bathouard, the French commander in this zone.

STEADINESS NEEDED

Gen. Bethouard was optimistic about the military situation, but predicted hard fighting ahead. "We must display patience and tenacity," he warned.

At British general headquarters, where I had a bite to eat that same evening with two British correspondents accompanying me, we were received in the same very simple and cordial fashion by Gen. Carton de Wiart, who commanded the British military mission in Poland.

With regard to the fighting south of us, the general was optimistic, but could give us no details. He himself was awaiting reports on the events of the day.

"Come back and see me in two or three days and I can give you some news," he said as we left to take a last look around in the dead town of Namsos.

AT NARVIK

At headquarters I learned that Allied troops, including the French Chasseurs Alpins, the "Blue Devils," have completely surrounded the small German force in the northern iron port of Narvik. Allied pressure on the town is increasing, supported by planes and naval units.

Near Namsos Allied and German troops are fighting along a scattered front through the ruined town of Steinkjer.

Along the road hundreds of Alpine Chasseurs, sailors and artillerymen move forward fulfilling their various missions. "Tommies" in trench caps are driving long columns of muddy trucks loaded with equipment and motorcycle couriers dash from one post of command to another, transmitting messages and taking orders.

The feverish activity which reigns near the Trondheim front contrasts strangely with the calm and solitude of the wild mountains, frozen lakes and deserts of snow I crossed from Sweden.

During the two-day trip I met in the sleepy villages only peaceful Norwegian and Lapp peasants, who did not seem yet to understand their country had become a vast battlefield.

On the way down the long Namsos valley toward Grong, the first sign of war was a big, four-motored German airplane which soared over the forest and dropped a few incendiary bombs on the railway. The fires were put out in a few minutes. No buildings were hit. A Norwegian machine gun spat a few bursts and silence fell again.

A few minutes later, at a cross-road, I at last saw my first French soldier, an Alpine Chasseur looking like a ghost in his white, hooded cape. With fixed bayonet he was directing the trucks that passed incessantly.

"ANOTHER DIED"

When I spoke to him in French he suspiciously demanded who I was, but after examining my papers began to chat. "There's another dud," he said, pointing to a nearby hole in the snow. "They're bad shots. They've been trying to knock out the railway for a week, but they can't do it.

"Yesterday they put a bomb right between the rails, but it didn't go off. Pretty soon we've got to cart it away—have to handle it like it was a baby.

"At first things were pretty bad here. They sent over a factory full of shells every day, and we had to go underground like rabbits. Their planes used to come down to 300 feet to drop their bombs and strafe anything that moved on the roads. We couldn't get anything done.

"Since we got British airplanes and anti-aircraft guns, things are better. They seem to be scared and don't come down below 9,000 or so feet."

At general headquarters—a little house made of pale wood, such as one sees everywhere in Norway, on a muddy road in the bottom of a small mountain valley—I found Gen. Bethouard with the chaplain of the French expeditionary force and two adjutants, one of whom, Capt. Fort, is a former world's champion military skier.

ATTACK ON NAMSOS

Regarding the bombing of Namsos on Saturday, April 20, Gen. Bethouard said:

"I have never seen such a bombing. The day after we landed the German planes arrived for the first time about 10 in the morning.

"They contended themselves with bombing the port and railway station for about two hours without interruption, using mostly incendiary bombs. After taking on a new load, they returned to the charge about 2 p.m. and sprinkled the town with bombs for about five hours.

"At 7 in the evening there was only one house left standing. In one hour I counted 70 bombs that fell. The whole town caught fire and was razed.

"Fortunately they came six hours too late. There was almost nobody left in the town. We lost only five men—four soldiers and a British captain named Blake.

"A bomb hit the post of command of General Odet. By a miracle he was only slightly wounded in the face. Two of his secretaries were killed.

"We have films of the bombing."

OPENING PHASE

Gen. Bethouard was optimistic about the military picture but conveyed the impression that the present phase is only a prelude and that important developments must be expected before the campaign is over.

The general emphasized the speed with which the French troops have adapted themselves to the Norwegian climate. For several days the men slept in the snow. Not one was ill. This was due largely to the new clothing and equipment issued to them, perfectly adapted to the situation here.

Every French soldier I saw looked healthy. Bronzed by the sun, bearded, they were in excellent spirits. The same was true of the British soldiers I met later at Namsos.

AT BRITISH G.H.Q.

At the British General Headquarters our conversation with Gen. Carton de Wiart was constantly interrupted by the arrival of messages. The first was carried by a young Canadian officer who came to ask the order of the day for the next morning. The matter was settled in a few minutes. Before the Canadian left the general said to him:

"I congratulate you on your report and your photographs of the bombardment of Steinkjer. Try to bring in material like that as often as you can."

"Our only worry," the general said later, "is that soon we shall have to take care of refugees. We shall have to feed them."

SCENE OF DESTRUCTION

We found the town of Namsos so devastated that it was possible to tell where the streets had formerly been only by the charred stumps of trees and telephone poles that formerly lined the roads.

The townspeople had returned and were wandering pitifully among the ruins. Of the great church, only the four walls and part of the tower were left standing. Everything inside had been destroyed by fire.

The number of civilian dead was not known. Charred bodies were still being recovered from the ruins.

At the waterfront British soldiers were salvaging a few packing cases. Cans of food rolled about on the ground. A soldier opened a tin of canned beef. Another offered us cigarettes, assuring us plenty had been saved.

2 Canadian Fliers War Prisoners

LONDON (CP) — The Air Ministry today listed as missing two Canadians who, according to a German broadcast last night, were captured with three others when their Royal Air Force plane was brought down near Alesund, Norwegian port southwest of Trondheim, last Tuesday.

They are Flying Officer Thomas Keith Milne of Khedive, Sask., and Flying Officer Bernard Hayward, whose father, a dairy farmer, lives in Dugald, Man., 15 miles east of Winnipeg.

According to the German broadcast they are prisoners of war. They have been listed officially by the Air Ministry as "missing."

KHEDIVE, Sask. (CP) — Thomas Milne, father of Flying Officer T. K. Milne, has been notified by the British Air Ministry that his son has been listed as "missing as a result of air operation, April 24."

Flying Officer Milne was 25, and joined the Royal Air Force in 1936. Before enlistment he was employed by the Imperial Bank at Fort Qu'Appele, Sask. He obtained his private pilot's licence in Regina in 1935, and was a member of the Regina Flying Club.

Poles to Broadcast

LONDON (CP) — The British Broadcasting Corporation today announced that arrangements have been made with "Radio Polski," official Polish radio service, for presentation of programs sponsored by the Polish government. Eight-minute Polish programs will be broadcast over the BBC network twice weekly on Wednesdays and Saturdays at 11.30 p.m., P.S.T.

Norwegian Refugees Suffer Great Hardships

By GUNNAR KUNTSSON

NEAR NAMSOS, Norway (AP)—The terrible plight of war refugees who have sought safety in the snow-covered mountains of central Norway is becoming more evident daily as cold, hunger and disease take their toll.

Adequate food and clothing are lacking for the refugees from the Namsos, Mandalen and Steinkjer areas. Among children and old persons illness is occurring with practically no medical aid or medicine available north of Trondheim.

Tragic scenes are enacted nightly in the region when refugees slip down from the mountains into valley communities to poke through the ashes of their homes, seeking lost possessions.

Mountain huts, especially in the Namsos district, are so crowded with refugees that they must take turns sleeping indoors.

This is the district where bombing planes have caused the greatest civilian damage in proportion to the population. During the first German bombing of Namsos, the region's largest saw mill was set afire and the entire populace turned out to help extinguish it.

They were partly successful until wave after wave of bombers returned, sending the Norwegians running in panic. Some sought refuge in cellars, but most fled helter-skelter into the mountains without pausing to take along proper clothing to protect them.

It was reported no civilians were killed by the bombs, but none of the debris has been searched yet, and the inhabitants said it would be a marvel if no dead were found.

Mountain peasants now are sharing their meagre possessions with the refugees. Cows, pigs and horses are being slaughtered for food.

The peasants not only must care for refugees, but they must help feed Allied troops in the vicinity.

A canning factory outside Namsos escaped damage, but its large stocks have been plundered. Not one can remains.

The shortage of flour, sugar and other imported food is acute.

Why milk exposed to air turns sour: the sugar of milk turns into lactic acid.

No Time for Threats

PUBLIC INCONVENIENCE FOR THE moment is not the only unfortunate factor in the gasoline controversy between the provincial government and the oil companies. There are at least two others of importance. One is the loss of taxation revenue to the treasury at a time when Minister of Finance Hart wants every dollar he can collect to help to meet obligations that soon will be falling due. The second is the unfortunate effect which reports of gasoline shortage may have on the tourist trade which the British Columbia Travel Bureau is spending large sums of money to attract.

This is not an argument to suggest the Coal and Petroleum Products Control Board should abdicate the strong legal position in which the judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada placed it last week; on the contrary. But it is intended as a reminder that the opposing forces should lose no time in gathering round the conference table in an attempt to reach a settlement, for if the dispute shall be permitted to drag on indefinitely, serious complications may well arise in which the public—as usual—will be the principal sufferer.

Loss of revenue from the tax on gasoline may not be as serious from the government's point of view as the daily drop of between $7,000 and $10,000 in receipts may suggest. The possible effect on travel from the United States—providing this province as it does with much-needed American dollar exchange with which to assist Canadian purchases of essential war materials—also may not be so serious as travel and other agencies may conceivably make out. These are nonetheless significant factors which have to be taken into special consideration.

Of greater importance than anything else, of course, is the principle involved and the implications attaching to any passive or active violation of that principle. The oil companies were successful in obtaining an injunction against the Coal and Petroleum Board's Regulation No. 10—the regulation authorizing the cut in gasoline prices—and it was understood by them, or it should have been, that if the Supreme Court of Canada validated the law which sanctioned the reduction in the cost of gasoline to the consumer, the force and effect of the injunction would at once disappear. In other words, the law of the land is now clear, and the cut is operative.

But the principle embodied in Regulation No. 10 has been definitely challenged. And if the government were to abdicate any of its authority in the face of the law now upheld by Canada's premier legal tribunal, no matter what temporary factors may become more or less seriously involved, it would be setting an extremely dangerous precedent. Some other way out of the present predicament must be found. Under no circumstances should the law weaken under any form of threat.

Publicity Pays

THOSE WHO ARE SKEPTICAL ABOUT the value of publicity, no matter in what form, may find food for reflection in the following dispatch which won a prominent position on the front page of the latest issue of the Kamloops Sentinel:

"REVELSTOKE.—The other midnight Kamloops radio station CFJC featured the Big Bend Highway on its midnight 'prowl program,' although Revelstokians had their doubts about the value of the publicity at that hour of the night. But they are dubious no longer. Ever since Monday the secretary of Revelstoke Board of Trade, J. A. Abrahamson, has been receiving letters and cards from persons all over the continent who heard the program and who are desirous of obtaining additional information about Revelstoke and the Big Bend highway. One man wrote from Berkeley, Cal., to say that until he heard the broadcast he was under the impression that there were no highways in British Columbia's interior beyond Ashcroft."

The opening of the new highway on June 28 is being widely publicized by the British Columbia Travel Bureau and officials of that department of the public service are expecting a large influx from the other side of the international border. In his capacity of Superintendent of Publicity for the National Parks Bureau at Ottawa, Mr. R. J. C. Stead, well-known Canadian author, likewise has employed word and picture to draw special attention to the opening on July 1 of the Banff-Jasper Highway—another important development that will add much to the tourist appeal of western Canada.

The Revelstoke dispatch to which the Kamloops newspaper draws attention, incidentally, proves again how necessary it is for British Columbia to intensify and extend its publicity.

Pity the poor politician. If he does nothing he is spineless. If he does things he is a dictator. If he doesn't show his teeth to big corporations he has no backbone. If he does he is presumptuous. If he does nothing about price control he is indifferent to the people's welfare. If he does he is an interfering busybody. If he cuts the price of gasoline he is a hero to the motorist and champion of the people's rights. If he relents in the price battle he is a coward, and if he interferes with the regular supply of gasoline for a week-end he is a meddler in things that don't concern him.

Mussolini the Juggler

ALTHOUGH PREMIER MUSSOLINI IS not ready to make his decision, he is obviously hoping that the type of publicity he is inspiring will at least keep the Allies on tenterhooks, even though his axis partner in Berlin may not obtain a great deal of comfort from it. Two dispatches from Rome today, for example, would appear to cancel one another. One informs the world that Signor Dino Alfieri, recognized as one of Italy's strongest pro-German figures, is about to replace Signor Bernado Attolico—who will go to Vatican City—as the country's ambassador to Berlin. The other dispatch comes from London and announces that Signor Giuseppe Bastianini, Italy's ambassador to Great Britain, was closeted with Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax last Friday and discussed the whole field of Anglo-Italian relations, with particular regard to the resumption of trade and economic negotiations between the two countries.

Observers in Italy and nearby countries seem to agree in general that Premier Mussolini's war machine is not ready for the conflict and that the country's economic condition depresses the pro-Nazi elements when they consent to face hard business facts. Able Dorothy Thompson—in Bucharest on Saturday—says Italy's present army is inadequately equipped, that her finances and general economic condition are seriously handicapping her, that living costs have gone up at least 20 per cent since the outbreak of war, that the government's budget deficit may be as high as 250,000,000,000 lira—and that, generally, be it noted, Italy's coptrol of the Adriatic is leading Mussolini to play a dangerous game in condoning this leakage in the Allies' blockade of Germany. Writing in the Living Age, Betty Wason, special correspondent in Europe for Transradio News and now in Rome, says Italy will try her utmost to remain neutral not primarily because of Catholicism or auction-block politics but because the country is totally unprepared for war. "All the money that could be squeezed out of the people for the military has already been squeezed, says this writer, "and even the women's wedding rings are sunk in Ethiopian mud; and military equipment is sadly in need of refurbishing."

What these experienced observers say may be quite true; but the fact remains that when a country goes to war means are always found to supply it with all that is necessary to do a great deal of damage. But Italy's geographical position, the fact that her fleet is not as large as the French fleet which is watching Italy like a cat watches a mouse, the knowledge that the British Mediterranean squadron is never far away from any point threatened in the waterway which is Britain's lifeline to the east, add up to definite considerations that Italy will have to ponder very seriously before she decides to become a fighting enemy of the Allies.

British Exports

BASED ON THE FIGURES FOR 1938, cessation of trade with Scandinavia will mean a loss of market for about 9,000,000 tons of British exports. But the increasing demand for British products in the Mediterranean region and elsewhere, including South America, will probably take up any slack in the market for materials the British are able to produce.

On the other end of the line, the British newsprint industry has been crippled by the loss of imports from the northern countries. The newsprint ration in the British Isles has been halved, dropping from 60 per cent of the prewar level to 30 per cent. While Scandinavia supplied only 2,500,000 tons of newsprint imports, it also supplied important quantities of pulp for the British newsprint industry.

Canada and Newfoundland may be able to supply the rationed French and British requirements—if the shipping space can be spared. The Allied shipping position may have been improved by the Scandinavian thrust, but the point is still obscure. More than 5,000,000 tons of ships plus an important percentage of the world's tanker fleet were left without home ports when the Skagerrak, Kattegat, and the Norwegian coast became battlegrounds.

40 PER CENT OF OUR NATIONAL INCOME

From Financial Post

Canada's war cost in the current fiscal year is placed at about $500,000,000. On top of this is a peacetime expenditure of $550,000,000. On top of that again is provincial and municipal spending to the tune of a further $500,000,000.

In addition, we must finance the repatriation of perhaps tens of millions of dollars worth of securities held in the United Kingdom in order to provide funds with which to help pay for Britain's war purchases.

The money must all be raised within the country. There is presently no alternative of outside borrowing. Barring inflationary monetary tactics, the whole sum must be raised either by taxation or by using the capital wealth and savings of the nation.

Revised figures compiled in recent special studies place Canada's national income for 1939 at $4,000,000,000. This is almost $1,000,000,000 less than previous estimates. Allowing for an increase of say $500,000,000 in 1940, the amount required by governments to meet the present level of peacetime expenditures and to carry the war effort on the expected scale, will be not far short of 40 per cent of national income.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

NICE PEOPLE

A NORWEGIAN GIRL, just returned to Winnipeg from Norway tells how Hitler's able espionage system had undermined her country before the invasion, and some of her stories are remarkable. Three boy friends of her talked about the war in an Oslo restaurant, under their breaths, mind you, making sure no one overheard them. Next day they got a letter warning them that Hitler would stand no criticism, and they had better talk no more.

Another friend of this girl and his wife went to a dance and next week received a similar warning from Germany. And when this man wrote to the German address, saying he would speak as he pleased, the German spy office sent him back a photograph of himself and his wife, taken at the dance. He was told his sentiments and his picture were all filed away, for use at the proper time. After the conquest he would get his.

They must make a thorough job of their nastiness over there, much more complete than we could ever hope to do. We lack the German efficiency. And apart from the fact that we wouldn't like such methods, I doubt that we could ever consider three fellows in a restaurant, a man and his wife at a dance, worth bothering about. We just can't imagine that a successful state, a world conquest or anything else worth while is ever built of such trivia. We don't believe that you can make a civilization out of a wild plot in a pulp magazine.

And that is where Hitler is going to fall down. He has accepted his own ghost stories, his own wild version of life, the feverish dreams of a house painter who somehow managed to climb through the window into the house and now looks out, bewildered. But the world hasn't accepted that version. People don't operate on that basis. They don't behave permanently like characters in a Hollywood spy film.

In the end, no matter what you do to them, no matter what kind of an organization you set up to stop them, young fellows will go to restaurants and talk. Men will take their wives—or, preferably, somebody else's wife—to dances. And no house painter is going to prevent them. Human beings aren't made that way.

ON THE LIST

STILL, IT MUST MAKE life interesting for the moment to know, as they knew in Norway, that they were on the official list; that their names were locked away in Mr. Himmler's files in Berlin; that their pictures were catalogued, their wives' sentiments written down; the courtyard and stone wall picked out for their shooting. It must be an interesting feeling to know that your own particular lamp post has been selected.

How would you feel, I mean, if, walking across the Causeway, you dared not stop to say hello to a friend lest a spy of the provincial government, disguised as an aged vegetable Chinaman, overheard your comment on the provincial income tax (now due and payable)?

How would you like it if, sitting about in a beer parlor in Esquimalt, of a Saturday night, you dared not open up on the Pandora Lighthouse lest an agent of the City Council, disguised as an inebriated American tourist lady, might report you straightway to the mayor?

Would life be worth while for me if I were to discover that Mrs. Noggins were a government undercover man, listening to all my casual comments for future use and her dead ducks for the market were really Dr. Goebbels in another of his clever disguises?

CURSES

NO, LIFE WOULD BE unendurable for us if we couldn't curse the government. I should not care to live another day if I could not, morning and night, with reverence and piety, curse the memory of the men who put that thing up on Pandora Avenue. I will go further and say that no man of British descent could be happy if the government of the state were anything but imperfect and usually incompetent, for it is complaint and grumbling that has made us great and happy. We are, you might say, a race and a civilization built on the proposition that whatever it is on Pandora Avenue, it should be removed. We are a people who have risen to power on the assumption that whatever the state is doing, it is undoubtedly wrong and should be viewed with suspicion.

And that has helped our governments enormously. For, having cursed them on the Causeway, without fear of passing vegetable Chinamen, without fear even of passing cabinet ministers, we do not go about contriving plots and conspiracies. We do not collect secret stores of rifles and bombs. Having cursed the City Council in an Esquimalt beer parlor, having reverently damned the memory of the men who defiled Pandora Avenue, we simply go on drinking beer. We never do anything about it. Pandora Avenue remains defiled. Therefore, our governments proceed as they please and all is well. More or less.

But nowadays the German secret service probably has you on its list. That used to be something humorous, fantastic and incredible, fit only for musical comedy, fit only for a song in Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado." Now Hitler has reduced half the world to these bizarre dimensions, turned it into a weird fantasy, a burlesque of Gilbert and Sullivan. He has everybody on his list. All I hope is that he has that thing on Pandora Avenue on his list. If I ever get the chance I am going to tip him off to that. I am going to sell that strategic information to the enemy. I am going to betray our chief lighthouse and I am going to mark on the plan of it the spot from which its architects can be conveniently suspended. Fuehrer, you are welcome to it!

How 'Trojan Horse' Came to Norway

Pearson and Allen in Washington Merry-Go-Round

In order to understand how the Nazis staged their "Trojan horse" invasion of Norway, it is necessary to get an inside view of the Norwegian political picture.

Secret of the Nazi success was a serious rift between the Labor government ruling Norway and Norwegian big business. The situation was not unlike the bitter row which has existed between the Roosevelt New Deal and American big business.

Norwegian businessmen, while not exactly pro-Nazi, toyed with the hope that Germany might rescue them from a Labor government, which they had been unable to overthrow at the ballot box.

It is doubtful whether the great mass of Norwegian businessmen would have favored an outright occupation by Germany, but, according to official reports cabled here, they seemed to have the idea that after turning out the Labor government, Hitler would restore Norway to conservative rule.

There was also a powerful clique within the Norwegian army which was even more strongly pro-Nazi. Norway's army is not large, consisting chiefly of a militia officered in part by business and professional men not in sympathy with labor.

They argued that since labor had spent so much money on social welfare and neglected national defence, the Labor government could take the consequences. These were the officers whom the Nazis induced to keep their men out of the way when German troops first landed.

Win Norway, or Lose

By THOMAS M. JOHNSON

UNLESS THE ALLIES can break very soon the tightening German grip in southern Norway, the world may lose what little peace is left.

The Germans would leave the Allies the chicken's neck of Norway by consolidating themselves along the 40-mile railroad from Trondheim east to the Swedish border.

Hurriedly, the Germans are fortifying this natural line, protected partly by streams and lakes. That accomplished, they hope to lock the British in the north while they continue their operations in the south, which is the springboard to Britain by air and water.

WOULD LEAVE CHICKEN NECK

As an axe beheads a chicken, the Nazis would leave to the British the country's scrawny neck and save for themselves the southern body, plump economically and strategically. Here are concentrated Norway's industries, munitions, her year's reserve stocks of precious oil, and the ports and airfields from which the Nazis can attack Scotland and British shipping, especially allied transports moving troops to Norway.

If Germany hangs on to the south, leaving the Allies stalemated, what then? The Germans believe the Allies will have missed the boat, and probably for the last time; that air power will have beaten sea power, and Italy might take her cue, striking in the Mediterranean, perhaps at Africa through Spain; perhaps at the Suez Canal or the Balkans.

RUSSIANS EXPECTED TO STRIKE AGAIN

Next, Russia, as partner or rival, may attack Rumania, and the allied Near Eastern army will swing into action, along with Turkey

Then Germany might launch her blitzkreig on France by way of Belgium and Holland, and Germany wants the gravy; would let Britain have chicken's neck.

Japan seize the Dutch East Indies. Whereupon the vulnerable Philippines would become still more vulnerable, and this world will become the worst of all possible worlds.

Horrible, but who shall call it impossible? All too possible is that one more reverse for the Allies—after which the dictator powers might begin a ruthless scramble, the end of which no man can foresee.

Nelson in the Skagerrak

"Topics of the Times" in New York Times

ALMOST exactly 139 years ago another strong British fleet was storming through the Skagerrak and into the Kattegat. Nelson was not in chief command at the battle of Copenhagen, but he won it, nevertheless. It wasn't one of his more glorious victories, but it had prolonged strategic results. It broke up the Russian, Danish, Swedish and Prussian league, scattered the only naval combination Great Britain had to fear and left her in immediate command of the seas. It proved one of the great steps in the long struggle between sea power and land power which ended in Napoleon's defeat and exile.

A jealous admiralty had refused Nelson full command of the 53 ships in the expedition, and placed him second to Sir Hyde Parker, a far less competent officer. Nelson was out of sorts throughout the campaign, but the victor of the Nile tried his best to get on with his bungling superior. Perhaps he really won the battle of Copenhagen at the Dogger Banks, for there he had caught and sent to Sir Hyde a remarkably fine turbot. Sir Hyde was a famous trencherman. It is said the turbot did more than anything else to establish workable relations between the two admirals. Little things often count in great affairs.

Nelson thrust his way up to the defences of Copenhagen with 10 ships, to which Sir Hyde added two more. The Danes could bring only 375 guns to bear against the British 1,058, but they put up a determined fight from their fortified hulks. In the midst of the battle Sir Hyde became alarmed and hoisted a signal of recall.

It was then that the characteristic Nelson touch came out. When his officers called his attention to the signal he raised his telescope to his blind eye and swore he couldn't see it. Eventually he did withdraw, but only after he had opened negotiations with the Danes and won a chance to retreat safely. His vigorous attack had taken the spirit out of the enemy. Shortly afterward news reached Copenhagen from Russia that Czar Paul had been assassinated and Alexander I was ascending the throne. The Danes, who had never been more than half-heartedly in the war, were ready to end it, and the British fleet was allowed to sail into the Baltic. Once more luck had backed up Nelson's resolution and sound judgment.

CHILDREN AND AIR RAIDS

From Toronto Star

The distribution in England of forms on which parents in danger areas were to signify their willingness to have their young children removed in case of air raids—and stay removed during the pleasure of the government—has met with a dampening reception. The Liverpool education authority issued 160,000 of these registration forms, and when the day fixed as the limit had arrived, only 5,212 had been returned, one-third from parents willing to accept the offer of evacuation on behalf of 3,600 children. Only 4,700 children had been registered in Manchester and Salford. Actual air bombings would, of course, bring quick results. In the meantime the arrangement is that registered children will get the preference in that event.

In no time of history has private charity been such a necessity as today.—Dr. Albert C. J. Simard, French civilian relief worker.

CHARLES WALKDEN.

AND WHY NOT?

From Manchester Guardian

A friend who had advertised for a maid interviewed one applicant last week. This duologue ensued:

Mistress: "Have you any references?"

Applicant: "What references?"

Mistress: "I stated clearly in my advertisement, 'Excellent references'."

Applicant: "Oh, that? I thought that applied to you!"

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "He threw it down upon the floor."

2. What is the correct pronunciation of "roue" (a debaucher)?

3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Mislead, tweed, knead, plead.

4. What does the word "pretentious" mean?

5. What is a word beginning with hi that means "pertaining to the stage"?

Answers

1. Down is superfluous. Say, "He threw it upon the floor." 2. Pronounce roo-a, oo as in too, a as in day, accent last syllable. 3. Tweed. 4. Making pretention, or outward show. "The house was larger and more pretentious than the surrounding cabins." 5. Histrionic.

Electricians at Banquet Note Improving Times

Through their affiliation with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the men who handled electricity in Victoria today were enjoying far better conditions than they experienced in the early years of the present century, F. F. McKitrick told members of Victoria Local 230 of the brotherhood at their annual reunion banquet Saturday night in Spencer's.

Mr. McKitrick, a charter member, told the banqueters of the hard struggle it took to form the Victoria local, the initial spade-work being carried on by a few interested parties. But in the 38 years the local had been in operation it had made splendid progress. "Many of the great dangers that confronted electrical workers in years gone by have been eliminated. Today they are better protected. Equipment is better. Working hours are better . . . . and after glancing at those in this room I would say that remuneration has been better," Mr. McKitrick said. He was responding to the toast to the guests, proposed by Ronald Winter.

Seventy-five members and guests attended the banquet, which was arranged by George "Red" Laird and committee, and declared one of the most successful of the 38 held. W. Fraser, president of Vancouver Local 213, was present, as were representatives of the Brotherhood from Nanaimo, Port Alberni, Duncan and Courtenay, including J. W. Hough, Courtenay, president of the upper island branch of the B.C. Telephone Employees' Association. John Egan, Victoria president of the B.C. Telephone Employees' Association, also attended.

The evening was featured by toasts and a fine class of entertainment.

R. D. Lemmax, president of Local 230, in proposing the toast to the Vancouver branch, paid a tribute to those pioneers and veterans of local unions for their loyalty to the trade union movement. He said it was through their struggles and sacrifices that the great organization had been built. "We are also proud indeed of the zeal and ability of the representative of Local 213, Vancouver, who is with us on this occasion. And I would like at this time to assure Brother Fraser that Local 230, true to its name and tradition, pledges its sincere loyalty to the Brotherhood and his local."

Mr. Fraser, responding, said he considered it an honor to be the ambassador of good will between the two locals. Business in Vancouver for electrical men was good now, he said, with almost everyone working. Mr. Fraser brought news of old-timers in the electrical trade on the mainland.

Ira Smith, secretary of Victoria local, proposed the toast to the B.C. Telephone Employees' Association, telling of the co-operation that continued to exist between the association and the local. Mr. Egan responded.

The toast to the up-island visitors was proposed by Charles Peck, Victoria. Tom Bird of Port Alberni responded. Speaking on behalf of up-island electrical workers, Mr. Bird said they were happy to be associated with Local 230.

Harold Bourne, vice-president of the B.C.T.E.A., spoke on behalf of younger members in the local. He felt that younger members in any organization were the members of later years who have to carry on the work. Therefore he urged the younger persons present to knuckle down and work for the good of the local and not to refuse office when offered to them.

Frank Shapland and Walter B. McMicking, charter members, also spoke.

The gathering loudly applauded the vocal efforts of Corporals Usher and McGill, a pair of polished soldier entertainers, during the entertainment program. Musical saw and whistling numbers by Reg. Stofer were also well received, as were Buster Brown's several comedy numbers. Tom Crabbe contributed pleasing songs and George Brisco dialect numbers. During the dinner hour Cecil Heaton played the piano and accompanied the artists later in the evening.

JOHN GOSS SINGS FOR MUSICAL ARTS

Last concert of the Victoria Musical Art Society season brings to a local audience two distinguished English musicians, John Goss and Bernard Naylor, at the Empress Hotel tonight.

Mr. Goss' work as a recital artist has been highly praised by many of the leading critics on this continent. Olin Downes of the New York Times said: "We do not remember such an original and interesting program given in a long time in this city." The New York Telegram commented: "It should be candidly admitted that few contemporary vocalists are worthier of a numerous and devoted following than this English baritone. He was again the artist of paramount distinction, flawless in taste, polished in method." Toronto Globe: "Goss, who is nearly the ideal recital artist as anyone is ever likely to be, gave us an evening of unalloyed delight." Bernard Naylor is a brilliant pianist, and is becoming widely recognized as a conductor of unusual gifts.

Health Day June 7

The annual Health Day, sponsored by the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service, will be held in the Luxton Hall grounds June 7. In addition to the usual field sports there will be competitions in health essays and slogans.

In the field sports the schools will compete for the Schwengers Cup for boys and the Mrs. Herbert Pendray Cup for girls, the awards to be made for the highest aggregate points. Also for competition is the Provincial Department of Health Cup for the relay race, a team of three boys from any health district. This cup is now held by Saanich, the Schwengers Cup by Langford and the Pendray Cup by Happy Valley School. A special prize will be awarded to the one-room school winning the most points. The schools competing in the Health Day Sports will include Langford, Happy Valley, East Sooke, Otter Point and Shirley.

Imitating the cold light of the firefly can be done by means of chemicals, but the light production costs 25,000,000 times as much as with an incandescent lamp.

FORECASTS GERMAN LOWLAND INVASION

LONDON (CP)—German will soon invade the Netherlands and Belgium, Gen. Sir Hubert Gough, who commanded the British Fifth Army in France during the first Great War, predicted today in an article published in the magazine English-Speaking World.

All signs indicate, the general said, that Hitler considers the invasion of Norway only a prelude to further adventures.

He also said it is probable the Germans will invade Sweden, and Russia will resume its westward advance through Finland.

"In any case," Gen. Gough said, "if Russia should renew her attacks on the Finns we would do everything to come to their aid, and one of the easiest ways of doing it will be to prevent the weak naval forces which Russia has in the Arctic Sea from again occupying Petsamo.

"Finnish capacity for renewed resistance to Russian attack will have an important bearing on our operations in Scandinavia."

Gen. Gough was head of the Allied mission in the Baltic region in 1919.

Italy Sends Alfieri As Envoy to Reich

ROME (AP) — Dino Alfieri, long considered here one of Italy's more strongly pro-German figures, today was appointed ambassador to Germany, succeeding Bernardo Attolico.

The two envoys exchanged posts, Atholico replacing Alfieri as ambassador to the Vatican.

Alfieri, former minister of popular culture, was designated ambassador to the Holy See last October 31.

Attolico had occupied the Berlin embassy for almost five years.

Alfieri, 53 years old, has been especially close to Mussolini in the last four years.

At the time Alfieri was transferred from the Italian propaganda office to the diplomatic service last October, many observers considered the move partly a concession to Italian public opinion, supposed to be cool toward the alliance with Germany.

In the past fortnight, however, there has been much stronger pro-German sentiment in the Italian press. This has been accompanied by repeated criticism of Italians who continue to favor the Allies in the war.

Dutch Master Fears Invasion of Holland

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Mystery surrounded the Dutch motorship Boschfontein today as she rested at anchor here long past the time she was originally scheduled to sail.

W. D. Hazen, representative of her agents, said he had no sailing orders for her.

Shippers believed the ship was held here for fear a German invasion of Holland might catch the craft in Canadian waters, where she would be subject to seizure.

4 Rescued By Police Launch

VANCOUVER (CP) — The police launch was called out late last night to rescue a disabled cabin cruiser off the shore of Stanley Park with four persons aboard.

W. M. Harvey, his wife, 11-year-old son, and a friend were aboard the 24-foot cabin cruiser when its engine suddenly failed in a heavy sea. It drifted to within 100 feet of the rocky shore before its anchor finally took hold.

Harvey's cries were heard and the police launch Teco II rushed to the scene.

CANADA AIRWAYS LOSS

MONTREAL (CP)—Net loss of $211,370 was reported today by Canadian Airways Limited and its partly-owned subsidiary, Quebec Airways Limited, for the year ended December 31, compared with a net loss of $213,501 in the preceding year.

Operating revenues dropped $81,755 to $942,940, while expenses were down $104,268. Depreciation expenses amounted to $143,394, an increase of $24,535 over the 1938 figure.

Operating loss was $73,465 before depreciation, compared with $95,978 in the previous year.

FURTHER DIVIDEND

TORONTO (CP) — Shareholders were told at the annual meeting of Sudbury Basin Mines Ltd., by Joseph Errington, president, a further dividend could be hoped for during the current year.

Mr. Errington stated the company had maintained its position in the Vermilion Lake area and had acquired former Treadwell Yukon lands for $150,000, of which $75,000 has been paid and the balance is due by the end of 1941.

Directors were re-elected and reports adopted.

Available in packages, pocket pouches and ½ lb. tins.

Weddings

ASHTON—CHURCHILL

At a pretty house wedding held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Churchill, 3144 Harriet Road, on Saturday evening at 8.30, their youngest daughter, Winifred Beryl, became the bride of Mr. Robert Ashton, R.C.N., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Ashton, 802 Bay Street.

The bride and groom stood beneath a white and pink arch during the ceremony which was conducted by the bride's cousin, Rev. J. W. Churchill. Mrs. Gordon Page played the wedding marches, and the soloist was Miss Enid Middleton, who sang "Because" as the register was being signed.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white stiffened net with a full skirt, sweetheart neckline, and a shirred bodice of embroidered net finished with short puff sleeves. Her hand-made veil of tulle was edged with lace and formed a train, falling from a coronet of pearls and orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of Rapture roses and white carnations.

Mrs. D. Buckle, sister of the groom, was matron of honor in a frock of peach net with a full skirt embroidered with blue forget-me-nots, and a floral doll hat, and carried a bouquet of yellow tulips, pink carnations and blue iris, and the bride's little niece, Lorraine Kershaw, was flower-girl in a frilled frock of green silk, wearing a wreath of flowers in her hair and carried a Colonial posy. Mr. Harold Clark, R.C.N., was best man.

Mrs. Churchill was dressed in Elizabeth blue with black and white accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink roses, and Mrs. Ashton was dressed in navy blue with navy accessories, and a corsage bouquet of American Beauty roses and lily of the valley.

Standing in folds of pink tulle on a lace cloth, the bride's cake, a gift from Rennie & Taylor Limited, where she had been employed, centred the supper table, which was arranged with vases of lily of the valley and pink candles and pink streamers, and covered with a lace cloth.

After a honeymoon on the island, for which the bride left in a turquoise blue dress and hat, a black lapin jacket adorned with a corsage bouquet of gardenias and black accessories, Mr. and Mrs. Ashton will return to Victoria to live. Mr. and Mrs. A. Blanco, Mr. and Mrs. E. Webster, Nanaimo, and Mr. and Mrs W. Evans, Port Angeles, were guests at the wedding.

MACLEAN—GILLETTE

Of much interest to the many friends of the bridegroom, who resided here with his parents when his father was pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West, is the following account of his wedding which took place in Vancouver on Saturday afternoon:

"At 3 this afternoon in St. Mary's Church, 37th Avenue, Rev. J. H. Craig read the marriage service for Joan Frances, youngest daughter of Mrs. Gillette and the late W. G. Gillette, to Alan Morrison Maclean, second son of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Maclean.

"The bride entered the church on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Herbert H. Gill, and was given away by her mother. She was an attractive figure in a suit of oyster beige wool. The coat, lavishly furred with beige fox, covered a soft blouse of accordion pleated chiffon. She wore orchids at her shoulder and her accessories were in chocolate brown.

"Her two sisters, Misses Margery and Vivien Gillette, attended her. The former had chosen a dressmaker suit in frosty blue shade, combined with black and dusty pink accessories and wore Laddie carnations. The latter's frock was rose beige with navy and orchid accessory touches and sweetheart roses.

"Mr. 'Buster' Brown was best man and the ushers were Messrs. Douglas Whitelaw, Elgin Cummings, James Dexter and Russell McCusker. Mr. Ernest Colton sang during the signing of the register.

"A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, who greeted her guests in a frock of lilac and turquoise, assisted by the groom's mother in a navy sheer ensemble.

"For her wedding trip to California the bride donned a multi-striped topcoat.

"Guests from out of town were the bride's aunt, Mrs. George Bromley of Victoria, Mrs. J. A. MacKinnon of Seattle and Mrs. John E. McMaster of Murrayville, Wash.

MOUAT—STEWART

A marriage of much interest to residents of Salt Spring Island, where the bridegroom, a native son, is well known, took place recently in Vancouver, when William Joseph, second son of Mr. and Mrs Gilbert J. Mouat of Ganges Harbor, was united to Jean Eileen, youngest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. Clarke Stewart.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's father and Mr. L. G. Mouat of Ganges was his brother's best man. The young couple will make their home at New Westminster.

YOUNG—WILSON

The marriage was quietly solemnized at Trinity Episcopal Church, Seattle, on April 27, at 4 p.m., of Dorothy Emily Sumner, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. S. Wilson, Gordon Head, and Mr. Karl Chester Young, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Young, Keating. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Barbara Wilson and Mr. Creighton Miller, Seattle, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Young will make their home in the Prince of Wales Apartments, Seattle.

ANDERSON—BROOKS

The marriage was solemnized quietly on April 25 between Edith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W Brookes, Tulip Avenue, Saanich, and Mr. Carl Anderson, Rev. W. F. Doeling officiating. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. T. Youell and Mr. T. Youell supported the groom.

Mme. Tetrazzini, Famed Diva, Dies In Italy

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Luisa Tetrazzini, 66, Italian soprano who thrilled opera lovers the world over, died in hospital yesterday after a long illness.

Mme. Tetrazzini, who first won great acclaim in 1904 on her first North American tour, had been living for some years in comparative retirement in her native Italy.

Through the first two decades of the 20th century no singer in concert or opera had a greater following than Tetrazzini.

She was a success from her debut in her native city, Florence, in 1895, as Mez in "L'Africaine," but it was not until she made her first American appearance in San Francisco 10 years later that she was acclaimed one of the greatest sopranos of her time.

IN SOUTH AMERICA

Shortly after the turn of the century she went to South America and at Buenos Aires repeated the successes she had scored in Europe. Continuing her tour, she next sang in Mexico and then went to San Francisco. Meanwhile, Heinrich Conried negotiated with the singer to join the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York, and sought to enjoin her from singing in San Francisco. His attempt failed and with it the negotiations for her Metropolitan debut.

Her appearances at San Francisco greatly enhanced the reputation of Mme. Tetrazzini and finally, at the insistence of her brother-in-law, Cleofonte Campanini, in 1907, in London, she made her debut at Covent Garden as Violetta in "La Traviata."

Oscar Hammerstein then sought Tetrazzini for the Manhattan Opera Company in New York. When she declined a three-year contract he is said to have offered her $3,000 for each performance. She made her debut in New York under Hammerstein's management in "La Traviata" January 15, 1908, and proved a sensation.

Mme. Tetrazzini was born in 1874 at Florence. Her father was a merchant. Her brother was a stage director at Barra and possessed a good tenor voice, while her two sisters made names for themselves in the musical world. One was a teacher at Milan and the other, Eva, who became the wife of Campanini, also was a music teacher and widely-known as a singer.

ONCE CONTRALTO

When the training of Tetrazzini's voice began it was a deep contralto. It soon began to extend upward, however, and eventually she was able to sing F in alt in such operas as "The Magic Flute" and "La Sonnambula." At the height of her career her voice was a coloratura soprano of exceptional power, clarity and beauty.

Early in her career Tetrazzini was married to J. G. Bazelli. The famous singer was given world-wide notice when she became a bride for the second time in October, 1926. On that occasion she was married to Pietro Vernati, 20 years her junior, and the tenant of her home in Rome. Three years later the singer obtained a legal separation in a Rome court on a plea of incompatability.

In 1931, after an absence of 10 years, the diva returned to New York for a concert tour, which was somewhat interrupted by illness. She said "I have had all I want of grand opera."

While in New York she was introduced to "crooning" and expressed surprise at its popularity. The crooner, she thought, was clever.

On January 10, 1938, she thrilled the world of music by speaking and singing from the government radio station in Milan. She arose at an unusually early hour from her great golden bed, which once belonged to a branch of the Italian royal family, in order to make the broadcast.

She spoke for 12 minutes, partly in Italian and partly in English. Then she sang, with a golden voice, Tosti's "Goodbye."

At her Milan villa shortly afterwards she described her "happy emotions" at the success of the broadcast and recalled many of her experiences.

One of the most moving moments of her operatic career, she said, was the Christmas Eve when she sang to 300,000 persons in a San Francisco square.

GARDEN CITY

Garden City United Church choir members were entertained last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Floyd, Devonshire Road, when a surprise party was arranged in honor of the birthday of W. J. McDonald, father of Mrs. Floyd. The guest of honor was presented with an Eversharp pencil. The evening was given over to a program of music and choral selections.

Miss Elizabeth Martin, who left yesterday with Mrs. Norman Williamson for Montreal, caught in informal pose by the Times photographer on Saturday afternoon at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. John Galt, Rockland Avenue. Miss Martin will visit relatives in Montreal and be a bridesmaid at the marriage of her cousin, Miss Janet Dobell, next month

Social and Personal

Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Plaskett of Victoria are sojourning at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Pirie of Vancouver returned home yesterday afternoon after a short visit with friends in Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ashburnham and their daughter, Miss Doreen Ashburnham, left this morning for California to make their home for an indefinite time in Santa Cruz.

Mr. John Monckton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Moncton, Prospect Lake, who is attending the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, returned home today.

Mrs. Harry C. Briggs of Vancouver arrived this afternoon to spend a few days here as the guest of Captain and Mrs. W. Bell, Foul Bay Road.

Mrs. E. Walton, who has been visiting in Seattle for the last 10 days, has returned to Victoria to resume her stay here as a guest at the Empress Hotel.

Mrs. Kennington of Cowichan Bay arrived in the city today to spend a few days as the guest of Mrs. A. E. Hodgins, Fairfield Road.

Mrs. R. Taylor and Miss Ruth Whiteoak entertained members of the Victoria Venture Club at a "Monte Carlo" party at the home of Mrs. Taylor, St. Lawrence Street, on Friday evening. Winners of the games were Miss Gwyn Spencer and Miss Ruth Whiteoak. Those present were Misses Maxine High, Marie Thomas, Gertrude Day, Violet Day, Hazel MacKenzie, Vivienne Nock, Elsie Finlayson, Gwyn Spencer, Louise Rogers, Beatrice Bell, Virginia Ross, Ruth Whiteoak, Janet Graham and Mrs. R. Taylor.

Welsh friends of Miss Iris Evans, whose marriage to Mr. W. Smith, R.C.A., will take place Tuesday evening, surprised the bride-elect at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. R. Evans, Chapman Street, Saturday evening. It was a delightful party, much of the success of which was due to Miss Edith Evans, who arranged many amusing games, and to Mrs. R. Mason, who accompanied the music-loving guests through many favorite songs and hymns. Mrs. R. T. Williams presented to Miss Evans a lovely case of flatware on behalf of those present. The rooms were tastefully arranged with spring flowers. Refreshments were served from a table centred with a bowl of narcissi and tulips surrounded at the base by pansies. The invited guests were Mesdames R. T. Williams, R. Mason, W. C. Williams, J. C. Williams (Langford), L. Prior, W. Hill, W. R. Jones, W. Gurney, W. Jones, W. P. Jeune, M. E. Thomas, S. A. Rands, R. Evans, L. Cannon, M. A. Lewis, E. McNeill, R. Brown, C. Jones, J. Smith, H. Kempton, J. Veness, R. Griffiths; Messrs. R. Evans, Lewis Evans, R. Brown, J. C. Williams, W. Jones, L. Cannon, S. Rands, E. Monroe, William Smith, R. T. Williams, David Evans Sr., David Evans Jr., Daniel Evans, R. S. Williams and the Misses Edith Evans, Gwynneth Evans, R. Mason, Geste Evans and Margaret Jones.

Lieut.-Colonel J. R. Kingham and Mrs. Kingham, the Uplands, returned yesterday afternoon from a motor trip to California, after being away from Victoria for the last three weeks.

Miss Helen Woodcroft and her brother, Mr. Derek Woodcroft, who are attending the University of British Columbia, have both returned home to spend the summer vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Woodcroft, Windsor Road.

The Misses Mary Edge and Sue Good were joint hostesses to members of the Pas-a-Time Bridge Club at the home of Miss Edge, 3250 Alder Street, Thursday evening. The winners of the evening's game were Misses Sheila Baines and Vera Hodgson. The supper table was attractively arranged, centred with a cutglass vase of narcissi, bluebells and lilac. Those present were Misses Grace Stevenson, Phyllis Biles, Sheila Baines, Theresa Wragg, Vera Hodgson, Sue Good, Mary Edge and Mrs. R. Huot. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Grace Stevenson, 94 Linden Avenue, on May 2.

Members of the Chiseler's Bridge Club spent an enjoyable evening recently at the home of Miss Betty Lansdell, Graham Street. Dainty refreshments were served and prizes were won by Miss Ruth Bennett and Mrs. Lansdell. Members present were: Misses Peggy Merriton, Lil Bennett, Ruth Bennett and Betty Lansdell, Mrs. Florrie Auchterlonie, Mrs. Arthur Armstrong and Mrs. Robert Stewart. The guest of the evening was Mrs. Lansdell. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss R. Bennett, corner Kings Road and Cook Street.

In honor of Miss Ora Morrow, whose marriage to Mr. James Bradshaw will take place next month, Mrs. Kenneth Cronk and Mrs. Wilfred Wilson entertained with a surprise shower at the latter's home, 2981 Dean Street on Thursday evening. On her arrival the guest of honor was presented with a bouquet of rose-colored tulips and greenery. The color scheme of the decorations was rose and green, the main feature being a rose and green watering can suspended from the ceiling, with streamers flowing over a wishing well, in which some of the gifts were concealed. Miss Morrow received many useful and decorative articles from the assembled guests. A number of contests were enjoyed, the prizewinners being Mrs. R. M. Dunbar, Mrs. A. Crowhurst, Mrs. R. W. Tervo and Miss O. Morrow. Dainty refreshments were served from a buffet table centred with a bride's cake, flanked by rose-colored candles in silver holders. Those present were: Miss Ora Morrow, Mesdames W. Wilson, K. Cronk, M. C. Fuller, A. Crowhurst, L. Fyke, R. M. Dunbar, J. Fulton, R. W. Tervo, E. G. Bailey, J. Brown, Guilt, A. Cuthbert, G. Durrant and F. Claxton; the Misses Helen, Dorothy and Margaret Fuller, Molly Crowhurst, Doris Smith, Dorothy Cronk, Joyce Morrow, Helen Gwilt and Mabel Filmer.

Weavers' Guild Had Birthday Tea

The birthday tea held by the Guild on Saturday in 301 Union Building attracted many interested visitors. The display of weaving done by the members called forth great praise. Notable among the exhibits were the coverlet woven by Mrs. Mary Finlay with wool of her own spinning and dyeing; a curtain in Summer and Winter weave in an adaptation of the Sorrel Blossom, woven by Mrs. Edith Beyer, and drapery material woven by Miss Marjorie Hill in the original pattern "Island Dogwood," which she has recently designed.

An interesting project carried out by Mrs. Flight and her group was a series of peasant aprons with bright bands of colored pattern weaving on the skirts. Miss Knevitt was in charge of this section. The exhibit was organized and arranged by Mrs. Edith Beyer, assisted by Mrs. Flight, Mrs. McGregor and Mrs. Finlay.

The tea was convened by Mrs. Clifford Johns and her committee. At the tea table, which was artistically decorated in white and purple lilacs, representing the Guild's newly-chosen colors, Mrs. Coulter presided. Those assisting in serving were Mrs. Anstey, Mrs. Etheridge, Mrs. Howell, the Misses Telfer and Holyoke. Mrs. White, the president of the Guild, welcomed the guests as they arrived.

During the afternoon, Mrs. Betty Howell delighted the visitors with several recitations. The birthday cake was the work of Mrs. Sexton and was much admired.

St. Margaret's Old Girls' Reunion

St. Margaret's Old Girls will hold their annual reunion on Saturday next at the school, at the kind invitation of Miss Pearce. The program will start with breakfast at the school at 9 a.m. and at 11.30 there will be a basketball match between a team of old girls, captained by Evelyn Lettice, and a team of present pupils.

Luncheon at 1.30 will be followed by the annual meeting of the association, and at 3 some of the present pupils will present a play, "Pedro the Toreador." Tea will be served in the common room.

Old girls desirous of attending the luncheon are asked to get in touch with the secretary, Miss Frances Price at E 9974.

Saskatchewan Group Has New Auxiliary

A large gathering of the ladies of the Saskatchewan Association of Victoria met at the home of Mrs. Frank G. Greenway, 1880 St. Ann Street, for the purpose of forming a ladies' auxiliary to the association.

Mr. J. E. Cooper, president of the association, opened the meeting, outlining the aims and objects of having such an auxiliary, and offered a few suggestions, after which Mrs. A. E. Clark, vice-president, occupied the chair until such time as the new officers had been elected as follows: President, Mrs. Ann Ball; vice-president, Mrs. E. E. Anderson; secretary-treasurer, Miss Greta Wrigley; members of executive, Mesdames J. E. Neeley, M. D. Merrick and H. Stokes.

It was decided to hold regular monthly meetings the third Monday in each month, also to hold social functions from time to time. The auxiliary consented to take care of providing refreshments for the dance being held Monday, May 6, in aid of the Arena building fund. The entire proceeds to be turned over to the Arena trust fund.

Plans are to be considered whereby visitors from the prairie province will be made welcome, and information furnished if required. Any former residents from Saskatchewan or temporary visitors wishing to associate with the Saskatchewan W.A. are asked to get in touch with the secretary, 853 Hampshire Road, or any of the officers.

Silver Tea at Oak Bay To Aid Sea Scouts

A silver tea will be held on Wednesday from 3 to 6 at 2426 Windsor Road, lent by Mrs. Alfred Woodcroft, the proceeds to go to the Sea Scouts' boat and equipment fund. In Britain the Sea Scouts are recognized by the Admiralty and do coast watching and signaling, and the Victoria Sea Scouts want to be prepared to do the same.

The tea arrangements are in the hands of Mrs. E. J. Lewis Smith, and those asked to pour are: Mrs. J. Stonehewer, Mrs. R. F. Blandy and Mrs. L. Peterson. Mrs. J. P. Walker and Mrs. Bosdet will be in charge of the home cooking and candy stall, and Miss Naneen Stephens will be in charge of the chicken dinner and cake contests. It is hoped that all friends of Scouting will support this effort.

The late Mrs. Annie McDowell, photographed on her 88th birthday last June.

Pioneer of James Bay Is Dead

Mrs. Annie McDowell Lived in Same House Over 70 Years

One of James Bay's oldest and best-known pioneers, Mrs. Annie McDowell, widow of William McDowell, of 325 Menzies Street, where she has resided for over 70 years, passed away this morning at St. Joseph's Hospital, in her 89th year. Mrs. McDowell had been a patient in the hospital since February 23, suffering from the effects of a fall. Until her last illness she had enjoyed remarkable health and took a keen interest in affairs of the day, and her reminiscences of early days here were enjoyed by her family and a wide circle of friends.

Mrs. McDowell was born in Middlesex County, Ontario, on June 10, 1852, the daughter of the late Hugh and Christina Munro. As a young girl she accompanied her parents back to the ancestral home in the Highlands of Scotland, then to Australia and New Zealand, and back to Victoria via Honolulu and San Francisco, a long and arduous round-the-world voyage in those days of sailing ships. The family came here in 1867 to settle. Three years later the then Annie Munro was married to William McDowell at the old St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at the corner of Courtney and Gordon Streets, and about that time Mr. and Mrs. Munro left to make their home on James Island.

Among her reminiscences, Mrs. McDowell used to recall going to Port Moody in 1888 to meet the first C.P.R. train on its arrival. She did not go again to Vancouver until 1918, when she went to attend the marriage of her son, C. J. (Jack) McDowell.

Mrs. McDowell is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Andrew Sheret, St. Charles Street, and five sons: Hugh, Menzies Street; Ross, in Seattle; Nathaniel, Menzies Street; Donald, Denman Street, and C. J. McDowell, Olympia Avenue; also 12 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Anderson, Telegraph Road, South Saanich, and nephews and nieces.

Queen's Hat Trimmed With Real Flowers

LONDON (CP Cable)—The Queen set a new fashion in hats yesterday during a visit to Dudley House where gifts from the United States are received for the war-stricken areas of Europe.

Her Majesty's spring hat, in off-the-face style, with brim turned up in front, was trimmed with real lilies of the valley to match, a small bouquet on the lapel of her coat.

Older Stenographers For Civil Service

OTTAWA (CP)—While the regulatory age limit has not been formally lifted, women up to 50 years of age may take the forthcoming general examination for Civil Service Commission stenographers, it was learned today. The age limit is 35.

Persons between the ages of 18 and 35 years are given preference. In permitting those between 35 and 50 years to apply the commission stipulates that they will be placed only when the lower age classification has been exhausted.

The C.G.I.T. conference arranged to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the Canadian Girl in Training movement concluded last evening with church service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church with approximately 300 uniformed girls in attendance.

Miss Marion Conibear, president of the Girls' Council, spoke on the history and purpose of C.G.I.T. and the Rev. J. Lewis W. McLean, in his sermon on "A Youth Who Didn't Get the Breaks," urged the need of spiritual backbone to face the temptation of life, stating that if we are to stand the test of life we must be made strong by the hand of God.

JUBILEE BANQUET

The Saturday evening session took the form of a 25th birthday party, the arrangements being in charge of Mrs. Maude Hammond, Miss Jean Munroe and Miss Grace Leamon, assisted by Jean Adams, Marion Conibear and Margaret Pelmar. The floral arrangements consisted of white lilac, narcissi and blue iris, the C.G.I.T. colors, while the place cards with silver bells and colored balloons greatly added to the festivity. The birthday cake with its 25 candles was cut by Mrs. A. J. (Mother) Daniels.

Miss Minnie Beveridge, president of the Girls' Leaders' Council, presided and read additional telegrams of greetings from similar gatherings in Regina, Toronto, Calgary, and Pat Bell, Great Brave, Senior Provincial Camp, also Halifax-Dartmouth, and from Mrs. Dorsey of Hamilton, Ont., formerly Helen Henderson of the Victoria Y.W.C.A.

The sing-song was led by Rita Millhouse and introductions given by Mrs. R. N. Harris.

Mrs. George Guy, who was one of the members of the first Girls' Work Board in Victoria in 1919, paid tribute to the leaders and the work accomplished during the last 21 years. Miss Marion Conibear spoke on what C.G.I.T. has meant to the 'teen-age girl.

MISS FOUNTAIN HONORED

Miss Lilian Parfitt paid tribute to Miss Anne Fountain, B.A., Girls' Work secretary for the province, and spoke in appreciation of the loyalty and devotion given by Miss Fountain to the promotion of C.G.I.T. work in British Columbia. She then presented Miss Fountain, on behalf of the leaders and girls of Victoria, with several pieces of Royal Crown Derby china. Miss Fountain was also the recipient of a beautiful corsage bouquet of Talisman rosebuds, the gift of the Girls' Council.

Vocal solos were given by Miss Barbara Daniels, a past president of the Girls' Council, and Sylvia Abott.

Miss Fountain concluded the evening with a challenging address on "They Dared to Live," urging the girls, in spite of all hardships and obstacles they might meet, to live life at its highest and best.

Social and Personal

Mr. Ralph MacAdam, well-known baritone soloist and radio artist, and Mrs. McAdam arrived recently from Vancouver and have taken up their residence at 2464 Windsor Road, Oak Bay. Mrs. McAdam has as her house guest her mother, Mrs. H. H. Welch of Vancouver.

Mrs. A. Mills and Mrs. J. Britton were joint hostesses on Saturday afternoon at a birthday party at the former's home, 617 Catherine Street, in honor of the 12th birthday of her daughter, Vera Mills. Games were enjoyed, prizes being awarded the winners. Tea was served from a table decorated with a maypole and streamers in blue and white, with the decorated birthday cake in the place of honor. The little guests included, June Appleby, Gladys Simpson, Alice Constable, Catherine Waters, Evelyn Coles, Betty Spearces, Catherine Smith, Susie Hockins, Jean Fisher, Ruth O'Donnell, Pat Kerr, Pat McKinnon and Jimmy Britton.

A delightful surprise party was held on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Sands, Hampshire Road, the celebration being in honor of their silver wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Sands were presented with many beautiful gifts, and during the evening games and refreshments were enjoyed by those present. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. McKellar, Mr. and Mrs. Broadhurst, Mr. and Mrs. Mugford, Mr. and Mrs. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Sales, Mr. and Mrs. Hollins, Mrs. Hollins Sr., Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Marrion, Mrs. Saul, the Misses E. Decker and J. Marrion and the Messrs. Percy Sands, Jack Swansborough, Vernon Sands, Bobby and Jackie Sales.

Mrs. C. Foot, 3384 Whittier Avenue, entertained with a birthday party Thursday afternoon in honor of her five-year-old daughter, Shirley. The tables were centred with lilac and narcissi around the birthday cake and dainty refreshments were served. Games were enjoyed. The guests were: Mrs. W. Jackson and Masters Jimmy and Harvey Jackson, Mrs. L. Wigley and Misses Florence and Norma Wigley, Mrs. V. Midgley and Masters Reggie and Dickie Midgley, Mrs. R. Hurst and Miss Marlene Hurst, Mrs. L. McKay and Masters Wallace and Lorine McKay, Mrs. H. Jackson and Misses Shirley and Winnifred Jackson, Mrs. F. Bossom, Miss Lillian Merryfield, Misses Shirley and Irene Foot.

A large number of members and friends called at the home of Miss Rose Maguire, 1132 McClure Street yesterday afternoon on the occasion of the annual silver and membership tea of the Junior Catholic Women's League, among the guests being Rt. Rev. John C. Cody, Bishop of Victoria, Msgr. A. G. Baker, V.G., and Rev. Fathers A. B. Wood and R. Monaghan. Presiding at the tea table, with its Venetian lace cloth and amber glass bowl of red tulips and narcissus were Mrs. William C. McManus, Miss Harriet O'Brien, Mrs. Blair Reid and Miss Eulalia O'Neill. Assisting in serving were Miss Louise M. Kicheaux, Miss Wenonah Scott, Miss Frances Porter and Miss Frances Cowndon. Mrs. Charles Rivers, the president received the guests. A delightful program was given by Mrs. Alex Grant, who sang "Danny Boy," Mrs. S. Shanks, who gave "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," and Mrs. L. Roseboom who recited "Fifty Per Cent Off" and "Conrad the Cobbler." Miss Margueriite McKay was at the piano.

BAPTIST C.G.I.T.

The Canadian Girls in Training of First Baptist Church took charge of the evening service last Sunday. The president, Miss Marion Miller, took charge, assisted by Miss Sylvia Smith, department leader, and the minister, Rev. G. A. Reynolds. Miss Edith Mann, missionary on furlough from India, was the speaker, and chose as her topic, "A Day's Visiting in an Indian Village." Miss Rena Smith and Miss Beth Lord gave short papers on "The History of the C.G.I.T. Movement" and "The C.G.I.T. Purpose," respectively. The C.G.I.T. choir and Miss Sylvia Abbott sang "I Would Be True."

On Friday evening previous the girls arranged a supper meeting in honor of Miss Mann's visit to the city. Miss Mann, who was introduced by Mrs. W. P. Freeman, spoke chiefly on her work among the girls on the Vizianagram Field where she is in charge of the orphanage and the leper asylum. Miss Marion Miller presented Miss Mann with a corsage of white sweet peas surrounding a talisman rose.

Miss Edna Middleton trained the girls for the choir and Miss Marion Stevenson is also a leader.

A white-petaled rose with a red centre, brought to England from Tibet in 1924, is now rated as a species new to science, rather than a new variety, as was first thought.

A family of six with a garden can keep stocked with a variety of small fruits by growing 20 grape vines, 250 strawberry plants, 40 black raspberry plants, 30 red raspberry plants and 35 blackberry plants, says a university horticulturist.

Sir Malcolm Campbell Is Given Divorce

LONDON (CP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell, for years speed king on land and water, was granted a divorce decree nisi today on the ground of his wife's adultery with Sir Malcolm's former business associate, Hon. Brian Edmund Lewis. Lewis was ordered to pay the court costs.

LONDON (CP)—Counsel for Lady Campbell, wife of Sir Malcolm Campbell, the speedboat racer, yesterday announced withdrawal of her counter-charge of adultery in their divorce action.

A woman who had been named as co-respondent was dismissed from the suit in which she had intervened with a denial of the wife's charges.

Sir Malcolm has named two co-respondents. He and Lady Campbell were married in 1920.

A.Y.P.A. HELD SOCIAL

The members of St. Luke's and South Saanich A.Y.P.A. spent an enjoyable social evening when they met in St. Luke's Hall recently. After an interesting talk by Canon R. J. Pierce, the meeting was brought to a close by the serving of refreshments. Arrangements are being completed for St. Luke's annual dance in Lake Hill Hall on Friday, May 3.

Women's Auxiliary to the Victoria and Districts Trades and Labor Council recently held the regular meeting, card party and social. Mrs. Skett, who recently recovered from a long illness was gladly welcomed and presided. An initiation of new members was held. The members of the auxiliary are planning an anniversary celebration June 6.

St. Alban's Ladies' Guild will hold a 500 card party on Wednesday at 8 in the hall. The guild will meet on Tuesday at 2.30, when final plans will be made for a rummage sale on Saturday, May 4.

LOOK OUT FOR YOUR LIVER

It may be the cause of your troubles. Buck it up the right way, with Fruit-a-tives. Feel grand.

Your liver is the largest organ in your body and most important to your health. It pours out bile to digest food, gets rid of waste, stores energy, allows the proper nourishment to reach your blood. When your liver gets out of order food decomposes in your intestines. You become constipated, stomach and kidneys can't work properly. You feel "rotten"—headachy, backachy, dizzy, dragged out all the time.

Relieve yourself of these miseries, as thousands have—with Fruit-a-tives, for 35 years Canada's largest selling liver remedy. Fruit-a-tives stimulate your liver, bring prompt relief—make you feel like a new person. Get Fruit-a-tives at your druggist's today, 25c, 50c.

SOLDIERS WELCOME DRAMATIC CLUB

Members of the Esquimalt Club entertained soldiers at one of the local forts on Friday evening with a variety program of musical numbers in costume, playlets and instrumental solos, which were well received by the men.

Traveling to local forts to entertain the men since last December, the concert troupe, working in co-operation with the auxiliary forces of Canada, has presented a series of nine concerts for the men. All presentations have received an enthusiastic reception. The next presentation will take place on Wednesday at the Three Services Canteen on Broad Street.

At the Friday night concert the following were members of the cast: Mrs. B. Deane-Freeman, Mrs A. F. Bayles, Mrs. W. Alsdorf, the Misses Wanda Spencer, Nancy Molloy, Dorothy Farley, Frances Rezac, Lovey Savage, Elizabeth Welch, Willa Andrews and T. Norman, A. N. Brown, F. Craig, W. Pimlott and J. Smith.

H. M. Bigwood was stage manager and director of the party, while Mrs. W. Alsdorf and Mrs. M. Pimlott planned the costumes. Miss Wanda Spencer and Miss Elizabeth Welch acted as accompanists.

The party was thanked by Captain Barker on behalf of Major Russell Ker and the men. Dancing and refreshments were enjoyed after the concert program.

Vivisection Discussed

At the monthly board meeting of the local anti-vivisection society, congratulations were extended to Hon. P. P. Baxter, a supporter, former Governor of Maine, U.S.A., for donating a vast national park and animal sanctuary to the state.

Miss Dora Kitto pointed out that the local society is the only animal organization on Vancouver Island fighting against animal experiments, enabled to collect funds for such a purpose or to supply correct information. The work is done voluntarily.

Chicago sent official pound figures showing that out of 13,473 dogs impounded in that city, 11,183 had been sent to medical institutions.

Many distressing, authentic and official reports of a animal experiments were laid before the board. The society's office is 315 Scollard Building.

Leafs Game Up

Strengthened For Tonight

WINNIPEG (CP)—Vancouver Maple Leafs have one game in the bag and now that they have nearly a full team available they confidently expect to win two more games from Winnipeg St. Andrews in short order and take their second western Canada senior men's basketball title in three years.

The Leafs, practically the same team that won the Canadian title as Vancouver Westerns two years ago, used only six players Saturday when they defeated the Andys 37 to 30 in the first game of a best of five series. They were forced to come from far behind in that struggle. Now with three more players newly arrived here by air, they see easier times ahead when they play the second game of the round tonight and the third game tomorrow.

About 800 fans saw a spirited Winnipeg team race away to a big early lead in the Amphitheatre Rink here Saturday, then gradually fall back as the Pacific Coast marksmen found the range. The Leafs missed badly during the first half when the Manitobans outscored them 16 to 13, but it was a far different matter during the last half.

WILLOUGHBY HOT

Joe Ross, one of the three Vancouver players who went through the whole game without relief, became deadly from under the basket, and Art Willoughby tossed in a trio of field goals from long range when the going was toughest, to pull the British Columbians from the rear to a comfortable lead.

Ross finished as the game's high scorer with 13 points, and Willoughby was only two points behind. Jack Tomes and Jack Carmichael, two of the smaller men in the battle of giants, played a big part in the Winnipeg offensive to lead their team with eight points each.

Teams and scores follow:

Vancouver: Watson 5, Willoughby 11, Bardsley, Parsons 6, Ross 13, Henderson 2. Total 37.

Winnipeg: Bulloch 2, R. McCance, Carmichael 8, C. McCance 1, Smith 2, Milton 7, Tomes 8, Robinson 2, Flower. Total 30.

Officials—Fred Tiley and "Pud" Height, both of Winnipeg.

IT WILL BE SOME TIME before Teddy Rau is ready to challenge George Athans for supremacy in Pacific Northwest diving circles. It may be a shorter time before June Stancil makes a serious bid against Lynda Adams in the girls' division. But if the kids keep trying as they have been, the day should come when Victoria's springboard performers will be in a position to give real opposition to the Vancouver stars, two of the smoothest performers in their respective classes that have ever come out of British Columbia.

Last Friday night Teddy took the British Columbia men's three-metre championship unopposed. Athans did not come across from the University of Washington, where he is studying, to knock over the provincial championship. June, diving against her fellow Victoria Amateur Swimming Club teammates, showed definite promise, as she annexed the women's title. Both Teddy and June reflected considerable credit on their coaches, Archie McKinnon and Mrs. Alice Hibberson. And with continued hard work they should increase their own lustre and that of their club.

Canadian Football

West Rejects Ruling

REGINA (CP)—The Western Inter-Provincial Football Union in special session here yesterday unanimously turned thumbs down on the Canadian Rugby Union's edict that they must play C.R.U. rules throughout their regular league schedule or forego participation in the annual east-west football final.

Indications are that the western conference will again operate with the same constituent members as last season.

Subsequent to the meeting John T. Thompson of Calgary, W.I.F.U. president, said: "Apropos of the decision of our union today, we feel that to acquiesce to the C.R.U. ultimatum would deal a death blow to western football.

"We have no right to expect the C.R.U. to adopt our playing rules since, the majority, with sincere conviction, have decided that such rules are not an improvement upon the present C.R.U. code, but on the other hand, we also feel that the parent body, with 19 eastern votes against four western votes, should not force rules on the western public that had been played in the west for many years and proven definitely unpopular.

EXPECTED COMPROMISE

"I had hoped that the C.R.U. would realize that in order to carry out its primary constitutional objective, namely the furtherance of rugby football in all of Canada, that a degree of compromise might prevail between our rule thoughts in the west and the C.R.U. rules committee's interpretation of what the east play," he said.

Thompson further noted that Western Canada, through the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, held the Dominion championship, and would continue to hold it in the mind of the public until an eastern team defeated the western representatives.

He also remarked upon the innovations allowed the west for years up to the time the west first won the Canadian championship.

Brooklyn Whips Giants For Eighth Straight Win

Victoria Takes Soccer Titles

Youthful Victoria soccer elevens captured two Vancouver Island championships in a trio of title fixtures played at Athletic Park on Saturday between local and Nanaimo aggregations. The lengthy round-ball program attracted 200 fans.

Coach Ralph Alcock's Gorge Aces brought one title to the city by turning back Nanaimo's North End Rangers 4 to 0, and St. Louis College took the measure of Harewood Cubs from the Coal City to bring a second title to Victoria. Nanaimo North End got their only victory by defeating Maple Leafs 3 to 1.

In the Gorge Aces-Rangers tussle the Gorge lads had the edge throughout. Norman Dunnett and Milton Wharf scored in the opening stanza for Victoria, and goals by Leonard Scott and Wharf in the final session made it 4 to 0 at the final whistle. Dave McMillan refereed.

The best game of the afternoon was between St. Loius College and Harewood Cubs, under 15 teams. Goals by Reg Clarkson and Bill Rafferty gave the College a 2 to 0 victory. Score at the half was 2 to 0. Nanaimo put on the pressure several times and would have broken into the score column had it not been for the fine netminding of Vincent Clarkson, collegians goalie. He played the star role in this game. Ralph Alcock refereed.

The under 18 championship went to Nanaimo, the North Ends from that town establishing a 2 to 1 lead in the first half and adding another tally in the final 45 minutes without a return from Maple Leafs. The visitors were faster and had a distinct edge. Leafs were short three of their best players and their shooting all afternoon was weak. Andy Vanger scored two of Nanaimo's goals, Wilfred Gregory begged the other. Bill MacCaghey beated locals' only marker. Scotty Dowds refereed.

Camilli Is Hero With Home Run

Yesterday's scores:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Brooklyn 5, New York 3.
Boston 3, Philadelphia 2.
St. Louis 7, Chicago 5.
Cincinnati 8, Pittsburgh 2.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Boston 5, Philadelphia 4.
Washington 3, New York 2.
St. Louis 11, Chicago 8.
Cleveland 11, Detroit 9.

COAST LEAGUE

San Francisco 4-6, Seattle 2-0.
Sacramento 5-12, Hollywood 4-16.
Los Angeles 16-3, Portland 2-4.
San Diego 1-4, Oakland 2-3.

A baseball whirlwind that was stirred up in Brooklyn and has swept ruthlessly through the east will strike toward the western clubs of the National League today—and whether it is just a zephyr or an honest-to-goodness cyclone should be known in short order.

The Dodgers have won eight straight games without a setback for the best winning streak at the start of the season any major league club has had since 1918, when New York Giants won their first nine.

The Dodgers subdued New York Giants 5 to 3 yesterday before 51,659 persons in the Polo Grounds. A two-run homer by Dolph Camilli in the ninth inning turned the trick. Whit Wyatt was given spectacular support afield and the Giants had 10 runners stranded to offset their outhitting the Dodgers 10 to 8.

LOMBARDI STARS

Young Gene Thompson chucked a five-hitter at Pittsburgh Pirates and Ernie Lombardi hit a homer and three singles for a perfect day at bat as Cincinnati Reds triumphed 8 to 2.

St. Louis Cardinals finally showed some of the power which made them contenders a year ago and tripped Chicago Cubs 7 to 5. Joe Medwick hit a home run and two doubles, John Mize and Don Gutteridge homers and Don Padgett two doubles.

Boston Bees broke into the victory column at last with a 3 to 2 squeeze past the Phillies on a

FIGHT MOB HONORS MEMORY OF JACOBS

NEW YORK (AP)—Funeral services for Joe Jacobs, the fight manager whose big cigar, quick wit and flashy dress made him one of New York's legendary figures, were held yesterday in a midtown memorial chapel packed to overflowing by "the Broadway mob."

Fight managers, sports writers, city and state political figures, fighters, actors and gamblers paid what Rabbi Leo Ginsburg said was a more eloquent tribute to the little man than he could pay in words.

Numbered among the honorary pallbearers were Tony Galento, whom Jacobs guided from the fistic scrap heap to the position of challenger for the heavyweight title; Harry Mendel, six-day bike race impressario; Max Baer, one-time heavyweight champion; Jimmy Braddock, another former titleholder; General John J. Phelan, chairman of the New York State Boxing Commission, and Jimmy Johnston, voluble fight promoter.

Jacobs died Wednesday of a heart attack.

WINS GALT CUP

In the final of the Galt Cup competition at the Victoria Golf Club Dr. R. Scott-Moncrieff defeated Walter Newcombe, 9 and 7.

Clyde Banfield Medal Winner

Scoring an 81, despite the high wind and rain, Clyde Banfied carried off medal honors in the qualifying round of the men's championship at the Gorge Vale Golf Club yesterday.

One stroke more in the runner-up position was E. Barber, while G. Petticrew took third with an 84 and Mike Ottfourth with 85.

Match play will open Sunday.

Scores follow: C. E. Banfield 81, E. Barber 82, G. Petticrew 84, M. Ott, 85, M. S. Lawson 86, J. W. Sangster 86, G. M. Cross 86, G. Cartwright 87, Leo Derman 88, F. Clarkson 89, J. Caddell 90, G. I. FORREST WINS SCHOOL SPORTS

Ian Forrest captured senior honors at St. Michael's School 22nd annual sports meet at the Falkland Road grounds Saturday afternoon, and received the handsome Victori Ludorum Cup and permanent shield presented by the Old Boys of the school.

Forrest had 14 points out of a possible 18 at the end of the afternoon. C. Jones was runner up.

The intermediate trophy was won by H. Carruthers with 15 points. G. Robertson was next with seven points.

H. Bridgman captured the junior laurels and B. Day the midget honors. R. Thomson was second in the junior section and R. Bell placed next to Day in the midget division.

A large crowd of parents and friends were on hand for the sports and despite the rain keen contests were seen.

In addition to the standard races there were events for Scouts, Cubs, parents and brothers and sisters of boys of the school.

Major H. C. Holmes won the fathers' event and Mrs. Desbrisay was first in the mothers' race.

Following the program the entire gathering proceeded to the school for tea and the prize giving ceremony.

Officials for the day were: Messrs. M. Bridgman, H. Robinosn, C. V. Mitlon, judges; C. E. Ley, recorder; K. W. Symons, organizer, and E. J. Symons, starter.

Announce Draw for Opening Ball Games

Plans for the opening week of 1940 local senior baseball season were completed yesterday at a meeting of the Victoria Baseball Association executive. Four games will be played during the week at Athletic Park.

First diamond tussle will be on Wednesday, May 8, with Pitzer and Nex, last year's champion's opposing Tillicum Athletics, runners-up last year, at 6 in the evening.

On Friday, May 10, at 6, Eagles and Navy will face each other on the diamond, while on Saturday, May 11, a double-header will be presented, the matinee attraction at 2.15 bringing together the Army and Navy nines. At 6 on the same day Athletics and Eagles will clash.

All evening games at Athletic Park during the season will start at 6, it was decided.

Second division entries in the association will close tonight.

PIGEON RACING

The Victoria and District Racing Pigeon Club will hold a meeting at the clubroom, 845 Pandora Avenue, tonight at 8, to discuss arrangements for the third race of the year from Tacoma, an air-line distance of 70 miles held during the week-end. Anyone interested in pigeon flying is welcome to attend.

Edgelow Stars In Polo Opener

Outdoor polo made its 1940 debut at the Willows yesterday afternoon with a keenly-fought exhibition game between Victoria Polo Club teams, the Reds and the Yellows, captained by Geoff. Edgelow and Don Carley, respectively.

Edgelow starred in his team's 8 to 2 victory over the Yellows, scoring five of the winning goals and playing a great defensive game besides.

A fairly large crown of followers of the fast-moving sport were on hand to witness the opener and were treated to some excellent action.

Five seven-minute chuckers were played. G. Tyson was referee and G. T. Maurice, timekeeper and scorer.

Play was closer than the score indicates, especially in the first three chuckers. Yellows weakened considerably in the final periods and Reds took advantage, applying pressure to score four goals.

Art Dawe scored both of Yellows' goals They came in the first two chuckers. Reds had scored three goals. They scored their fourth in the third chucker and the remaining four came in the last two.

Teams and scores follow:

Yellows: Don Carley, Art Dawe 2, Jerry Aitken, Jack Rawnsley and Jock Findlay.

Reds: Geoff. Edgelow 5, Jack Boorman 1, Gordie Harris 1, Lou Moriarty and N. Van de Vliet 1.

There will be another game Sunday, starting at 3. The playing grounds are in the centre of the Willows race track.

Mainlanders Win Army Soccer Title

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) Westminster Regiment won the British Columbia army soccer championship Saturday by defeating Canadian Scottish 2 to 0 in the second game of a home-and-home series. A previous game in Victoria two weeks ago ended in a 2 to 2 tie.

Prixate Aubrey Kutz, outside right, scored in the first half and Private Jack Brown, outside left, netted a second goal after the interval.

Tie for Medal Handicap Golf

With net scores of 66, F. Thomas and H. A. Elwood tied for medal honors in the men's club handicap championship at the Colwood Golf Club yesterday. Thomas had a score of 77-11—66, and Elwood posted 82-16—66.

Champ Beaten In Club Golf

Second round of match play in the men's championship at the Victoria Golf Club, saw the defeat of the defending champion Walter Newcombe, at the hands of R. Peachey, 5 and 4.

Alan Taylor, medalist, reached the semifinals by defeating Dr. R. Scott-Moncrieff 3 and 2. In the other two matches B. P. Schwengers eliminated C. P. Rutherford 2 and 1, and J. Squire defeated W. H. Newcombe 5 and 3.

Flight results follow:

First flight—A. H. Ford defeated Gordon Verley 2 and 1; H. G. Garrett won from A. Watson by default; H. F. Hepburn won from C. I. Mackenzie by default; Harold Husband defeated J. H. Todd at 21st.

Second flight—H. B. Combe defeated G. P. Melrose 2 and 1; W. B. Deach defeated K. R. Sangster 3 and 2; J. P. Paret defeated C. Stanier 5 and 4; J. Carl Pendray defeated Walter Parry 3 and 2.

Toronto Police Stop Sunday Bowlers

TORONTO (CP)—Police, acting under the Lord's Day Act, prevented completion Sunday of the Canadian Bowling Association tournament and presentation of prizes at a Sunnyside Beach boardwalk fashion parade. For the first time in the 14-year history of Canada's biggest fivepin tourney, the events could not be finished because police raided the Olympia-Gerrard Alleys early Sunday and prevented 79 bowlers from completing their games.

25 Years Ago

April 29, 1915

LONDON—The capture of an entire battalion of Turks on the Gallipoli Peninsula, near the Gulf of Suvla, after an all-day battle was reported in dispatches received here today from Athens. Both the British and the French participated in the engagement.

VANCOUVER — Advices from London, England, state that Lieut.-Colonel H. McHarg, late commander of the Seventh Battalion (First British Columbia), gave his life for a private who had been wounded and whom he wished to take to a place of safety.

Caught in the fierce northwest gale which swept the Gulf of Georgia in the early hours this morning, the Sandheads lightship was driven ashore at the entrance to the Fraser River and is now being pounded by heavy seas. Several ships are standing by.

Jeremy Taylor, a brother of R. F. Taylor of this city, has gone to the front. This makes 37 relatives of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Nash who are serving their country and their Empire at the present time in the forces of the allies.

INN AT QUALICUM OPENS WEDNESDAY

Qualicum Beach's popular Sunset Inn will be officially opened for the summer season on Wednesday next, it was learned today.

Even though the opening will not take place until Wednesday, the hotel has been in use by a number of guests for some time.

Major and Mrs. O. Cavanagh, well-known as the proprietors of Glenairley Farm, East Sooke, have taken over the inn.

BOYCOTT COUNCIL

At a meeting of the Embargo and Boycott Council it was decided to continue the organization. It was felt that situations arise from time to time which the council might well investigate. Such an instance was the announcement that a smelting company had renewed its contract with Japan for its full output of copper. Last year the ore shipments totalled 1,451,491 tons.

The council deplored the fact that Canada, while resisting aggression in Europe, was supplying China's aggressor with the vital necessities to suppress the Chinese, and at the same time depleting Canada's reserves.

The council will donate $40 to the Committee for Medical Aid for China.

The council will meet on the third Tuesday in each month.

MUNICIPALITIES SEEKING ACTION

Mayor Andrew McGavin, with R. R. F. Sewell, secretary, will represent the executive of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities in an interview with the provincial authorities this week to determine what action can be taken to implement resolutions passed by the union at its last session.

The two delegates will also put forward requests from the executive for the establishment of town planning regulations to save municipalities in the interior of the province from the encroachment of shack-towns just outside their boundaries.

The Victoria mayor was requested to represent the union on those questions following an executive session in Vancouver yesterday. The executive, he explained today, is somewhat concerned over the failure of the provincial government to take action on recommendations laid before the provincial authorities following the last regular convention. He was of the opinion the interview would be with Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Municipalities, and officials of his department.

The town-planning proposal was not of material consequence to Victoria or other island communities, but was a very live issue in the interior, the mayor said. In several regions construction of low-grade houses just outside municipal boundaries is tending to create slum conditions, he reported.

FRAGMENTS SING FOR SOLDIERS

Britannia Fragments, concert party of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion, journeyed out to one of the forts Friday evening and entertained the troops stationed there with a variety show.

The show was produced and directed by Alf Adams, and was composed of the following members: George Todd, pianist; J. Matheson, Bert Lilley, J. Cleactor, Bert Lilley, W. Farmer, D. Park, Miss E. Milne and Miss D. Finn.

The guest artiste for the evening was Miss Peggy Walton, who greatly pleased the men with her fine singing.

Percy Scrimpton acted in his usual role of stage manager. At the conclusion of the show the troupe was warmly thanked by the officers and men for their kindness in bringing out the show.

Alf Adams announced that a new show was now in rehearsal with a complete change of program, and will go into production about the middle of May.

ST. MARY'S SCOUTS

Thirty-five Scouts and leaders attended the meeting of St. Mary's Troop Friday evening opened by Duty Patrol Leader Ted Clayards. A flag of Nova Scotia was presented to the troop by a former Assistant Scoutmaster of the troop, now Assistant Scoutmaster of the 9th Halifax Troop. Johnny Jones was given his four-year-service star; Lawrence Wilson his one-year, and John Rees and Pat Laundy their second-class badges. Sever Scouts and leaders who took the St. John Ambulance first aid course were successful in passing the examination, four being seniors and three juniors.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Prairies Welcome Rains

WINNIPEG (CP)—Beneficial rains drenched thousands of acres of prairie wheatlands today.

Across southern Manitoba and Saskatchewan and up into northern Alberta, nature turned on the taps, bringing welcome moisture to the farms. The damp weather, which prevailed over most of the plains during the week-end, was expected to continue as the forecast was for cool temperatures, accompanied by scattered showers.

START TRAINING

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — A class of 33 Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve officers reported at Royal Military College here today for training. Members of the second class of 33 officers completed their course yesterday, and left for another centre to continue training.

REGINA (CP)—More distant from the sea than any other sailors in Canada, men of the Regina division R.C.N.V.R. started summer training today. The first task was a 20-mile route march.

Ship Flag Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Cordell Hull is awaiting a full report on a charge by the Norwegian prime minister, C. M. Hambro, that a German supply ship putting into Narvik, Norway, flew a United States flag.

A narcissus with a 34-inch stem was picked by Bernard Bing Saturday while gathering flowers in his father's garden at 1140 Transit Road.

Youth Secures Reduced Term

The Court of Appeal moved today to redeem a youth for a life of usefulness as it reduced to six months the 18-months' sentence passed on Desmond Sullivan by Police Magistrate Edmonds, New Westminster.

That decision was reached after W. A. Schultz, young Vancouver barrister making his first appearance before the court, presented an eloquent plea which included an assurance that the boy could secure immediate employment if released on suspended sentence.

Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald, handing down judgment, stated he considered 18 months excessive for a first offence. He declared the boy one who should not be allowed to drift into a life of crime and then announced reduction in sentence, with the hope the man who had offered the prisoner work would hold his offer open until the youth was released.

Sullivan had pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering with intent to commit theft and of being in possession of an automobile knowing the same to be stolen.

Hearing of the appeal followed delivery of judgment in the case of John Thimsen, sentenced to three months in Vancouver on a fraud count. Thimsen's appeal was allowed, with Mr. Justice Macdonald dissenting.

Judgments will be delivered next Monday on the appeals of Roy vs. Woodcock, Brown Bros. vs. the Vancouver Ice and Cold Storage Co. Ltd., and the First Narrows Bridge Co. Ltd. vs. the City of Vancouver.

The crown's appeal against the Assize Court acquittal of Gordon Vance on a charge of manslaughter here was abandoned, Joseph McKenna informing the court the Attorney-General had filed the conventional notice of appeal to permit study of the case. The crown did not wish to proceed further, Mr. McKenna said in moving for dismissal.

PLEDGE TO PAY U.S. EXCHANGE

Window display cards to be issued by the Foreign Exchange Control Board of Canada, pledging merchants, hotel and resort keepers and others to pay the official rate of exchange set by board on United States currency to American tourists visiting Canada this year, will be distributed locally by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber has been asked by the board to give an estimate of the number of cards that will be wanted in Victoria. When they are received the cards will be issued to whoever wants them.

The exchange board's letter points out it has been conducting an educational program throughout the Dominion to emphasize that merchants in their own interest should accept U.S. currency at the full premium. The display cards are for the purpose of ensuring visitors they will be treated fairly.

The legal position, the letter adds, is that U.S. currency is not legal tender in Canada and no one need accept it if he does not wish to. "Needless to say, anyone wishing to benefit from the tourist trade will readily accept U.S. money. It is at this point that Regulation 52 of the Foreign Exchange Control Board has application, namely that if persons accept U.S. currency they must pay the official premium," the communique says.

ROYAL SCHOOLS NAME EXAMINERS

Dr. Percy Hull and Max Pirani will be examiners for the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music, London, in British Columbia this year, it was learned here today.

Others named for the Canadian territory are: Dr. Frederic Staton and Wesley Roberts.

Mr. Pirani and Dr. Hull will be conducting examinations in this province for the first time when they assume their duties here.

15 Takes a Snooze

Takes a Snooze—Locked in Club

A local clubman had a rather embarrassing time with his wife when he arrived home at 3.15 yesterday morning, but he had the police to vouch for his story.

He was in the club Saturday night and laid down for a snooze before going home. The snooze developed into a sound sleep and the club steward failed to notice him when closing up time came.

At 3.15 he frantically 'phoned the police and told them he had just wakened to find himself locked in. Police called the club president who obliged by coming to town with a key and letting the member out.

Rogers Talks With Daladier

PARIS (CP-Havas)—Hon. Norman Rogers, Canadian Minister of National Defence, conferred at length this afternoon with Defence Minister Daladier and General Gamelin, Allied commander-in-chief.

Mr. Rogers, who flew to Paris from London this morning, will be guest of honor at a dinner at the Canadian legation tonight given by Lieut.-Col. G. P. Vanier, Canadian minister to France.

Consul Dies

VANCOUVER (CP) G. W. Tornroos, consul for Finland in Vancouver, died in hospital today less than 24 hours after he had suffered a collapse.

Mr. Tornroos, who was born in Finland 52 years ago, had represented his country in Vancouver since 1924, when he was first appointed vice-consul. He became consul in 1931.

Eire Food for Britain

LONDON (CP)—Two Eire cabinet members reached London this evening for discussions which British authorities said said would cover "matters of mutual trade benefit," including the possible supply by Eire of butter, eggs and bacon which Britain obtained from Denmark before the Nazi invasion.

The prophecies and historical incidents of the Bible, which Mr. Richards believes concern and illuminate the eventful days through which the world is passing, the duration of the war as far as it can be legitimately deduced, and Hitler's periods of action will be dealt with.

Statements by two prisoners, held by police on extortion and drug charges, that they were denied the right to see their lawyers while they were held in the lock-up, were refuted in statements from police officers to Magistrate Hall today. C. L. Harrison, prosecutor, said he had investigated the allegations. He produced a written statement from Sergt. George Varney reporting that he (Sergeant Varney) had called P. J. Sinnott at one man's request and E. V. Finland at the other's request. The Magistrate said the issue had been cleared up to his satisfaction. Both men were remanded until Wednesday for preliminary hearing on the charges.

TWILIGHT RECITAL

The Sunday afternoon twilight recitals, which have been so popular this season, came to a close yesterday at First Baptist Church when the choir of St. Aidan's United Church gave a much-appreciated program.

Frank Jennings was conductor and under him the choir sang pleasingly, the voices blending well, with fine tone and good expression, unity of attack being outstanding.

Jack Smith was at the organ, and played his own composition "Easter Flowers."

The committee hopes to arrange a similar series of recitals next year.

Knocked Out and Robbed of $22

Police this week-end investigated a report from Hugh Rehder, Clifton Rooms, that he was knocked out and robbed of $22 by two men on Friday night near the Burnside Fire Hall.

Rehder told police he was accosted by the two men who asked for a cigarette. As he offered them the package he was hit in the eye by one and knocked out. When he came to he discovered $22 had been removed from his pockets.

Vessels Sunk in Danube

BUDAPEST (CP-Havas)—Two river boats proceeding up the Danube to Germany were sunk in the port of Bratislavia as a result of acts of sabotage, it was reported today. One was the Prince Alexander, carrying 500 tons of grain, and another, a Rumanian vessel, carrying resin.

Thieves Loot Offices and Homes

Cash, jewelry, stationery supplies and bedding equipment constituted the loot of thieves who were busy over the week-end.

Safecrackers who must have worked half the night at their job, stole $50 in cash and about $100 worth of gasoline coupons from offices of the Home Oil Company, 4 Huron Street. After an unsuccessful attempt to blow the safe with fuses and detonator caps the thieves opened it and broke through the bottom with hammers and a large iron bar.

Police suspected the same gang were responsible for the ransacking of Diggon-Hibben Limited, 1210 Government Street, where a wall safe was smashed, inside offices were thoroughly searched and about $60 worth of fountain pens and pencils stolen. Entry was made through a second story window reached by the fire escape.

From an E. & N. caboose several blankets and a quantity of bedding were stolen.

D. W. Baer, 2829 Fifth Street, reported the theft of about $100 worth of jewelry, including a Rolex wrist watch. He discovered the entry after returning home Saturday night.

J. A. Dewar, Douglas Street jeweler, reported his premises enter and ransacked, but no loss was reported. Thieves forced a window to gain entry.

C. Dale, 643 Fort Street, reported his store entered, but said nothing was missing.

James Ashcroft reported $15 was stolen from his room at 836 Caledonia Avenue, during the week-end.

The hairdressing parlor and barber shop operated by Harry A. Stewart, Winch Building, was entered and $5 in cash and an electric razor stolen.

In Saanich the entry of the Mount View High School was discovered on the opening of the school this morning. No loss was reported.

Garden Festival To Be Broadcast

Victoria's gardens, now at the height of their spring beauty, will receive wide publicity this week, when highlights of annual Spring Garden Festival, opening Wednesday, will be broadcast over a national hook-up.

Each evening, including Friday, the broadcasts will commence at 6.45 and continue for 15 minutes, from the Empress Hotel, headquarters of the festival. The first program will have a description of Victoria and the beauties of Vancouver Island generally.

The second will dramatize a journey around Victoria and the third will have garden vignettes embodied in its set-up.

Well-known horticulturists and visitors will be interviewed over the microphone and will be asked to describe their reactions to Victoria's gardens.

The first of the festival visitors arrived today. The largest influx will be on Wednesday, in time for the opening features.

With promise of good weather, there is every indication the festival this year will be more successful than ever. Many Victorians are planning to visit the many fine gardens and to attend the lectures, dinners, teas and motion pictures at the Empress Hotel.

The Victoria Horticultural Society is working with the management of the Empress Hotel to make the 1940 Festival outstanding.

'Y' CLASSES IN SWIMMING FINISH

Winter swimming classes at the Y.M.C.A. concluded last week and 75 per cent of 108 boys and girls of all ages and men and women who attended the classes will now be able to enjoy swimming to the fullest with the summer months approaching.

Coach Archie McKinnon was assisted in teaching by Miss Georgie Rudge.

Many of the graduates will join the swimming clubs of the association. New schedules for the clubs have been announced as follows:

On Wednesday nights at the "Y" pool the midget club will meet at 6.30; the junior girls at 7.15 and the senior men and women at 8. The junior boys' club under Bob Doherty will meet on Tuesday's at 7. Two sessions for all swimmers will be held each week at the Crystal Garden. On Monday evenings the swimmers will meet at 8 and on Saturday evenings at 7.30.

A chemical derived from castor oil is being used, in combination with a small amount of pyrethrum, as a new fly spray.

Ray, 144 Howe Street; two brothers, James Hurst, Indiana, U.S.A.; William Hurst, Petrolia, Ont.; one sister, Mrs. Geo. Sexton of Courtright, Ont., and four grandchildren. He was a member of Vancouver and Quadra Masonic Lodge No. 2. The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon from McCall Brothers' Funeral Home at 2, Rev. N. J. Crees officiating. Interment at Royal Oak.

DUNCAN—James Flett, member of a pioneer B.C. family, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. P. Jaynes, here. His father, John Flett, was sent out to Victoria by the Hudson's Bay Company in 1847. The late Mr. Flett received his early education in Victoria and had been a resident of Maple Bay for many years. Besides his daughter, Mrs. Jaynes, he leaves a son, Frank, at Powell River. Funeral services will be held from Duncan United Church at 2.30 Tuesday afternoon, interment at Mountain View Cemetery.

LONGMEADE, SASK., (CP)—Thomas Swain, 105-year-old veteran of the Riel Rebellion, died yesterday. Swain, son of an English father and native mother, was born April 6, 1835, in Fort Garry, now Winnipeg. Surviving are five children, all more than 70 years old. As dispatch bearer from General Middleton to Louis Riel at Batouche, Swain renewed acquaintance he had made with the Metis leader 16 years before.

TORONTO (CP)—Stephen W. Burns, K.C., 72, one-time Toronto alderman and former chairman of Toronto Board of Education, died Sunday.

Australians Broadcast to Italy

SYDNEY, Australia (CP-Reuters)—Prime Minister R. G. Menzies, inaugurating a new broadcasting service in the Italian language, today told the Italian people that Australia is at war because she always stands with Great Britain and because she loves freedom.

"We ought to understand each other better than is the case at the present moment," he said. "Between you and us there exists a well-established friendship which is based on mutual respect."

Missing C.A.S.F. Man Found

OTTAWA (CP)—Leslie Archibald Thatcher, 20, Ottawa, who previously was reported captured by Germans in Norway, where he was fighting as a volunteer against Germany, has turned up in Scotland, Lieut.-Col. H. Stethem, director of the prisoners of war information bureau, said today. "As he is an absentee from the 1st Canadian Division forces at Aldershot an escort is being sent to bring him to Aldershot," said Col. Stethem.

Salvation Worker Dies

NEW YORK (CP) — Mrs. Agnes Page Palmer, 65, wife of Col. William F. Palmer of the Salvation Army, died Saturday night. For some years she was assistant editor of the Army's publications at Toronto. She was born in London, where her father, Jessage Page, edited the British Workman.

BERLIN (AP) — Maps being sold on the streets of Berlin, to illustrate the northern war designate waters between the British Isles and Scandinavia as the "North, or German, Sea," in line with claims of the German press that Britain no longer is mistress of the North Sea.

Raymond Massey and Joan Marion in "Black Limelight," coming Monday to the Plaza Theatre.

'BOUNTY' FILM ON CADET SCREEN

Proclaimed the greatest of all sea dramas, "Mutiny on the Bounty" opens today at the Cadet Theatre.

Aside from entertainment, it presents an authentic visual document of one of the most notable chapters of maritime history—the mutiny on the H.M.S. Bounty 150 years ago.

Three great actors lead the cast. They are Charles Laughton, as Captain Bligh; Clark Gable, as Fletcher Christian, leader of the mutineers and, Franchot Tone, as Midshipman Byam.

NO RISE IN COSTS

TORONTO (CP) — Because the company has handled an average of 5,000 tons of ore daily since the end of September, 1939, compared with 4,700 tons daily previously, Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company's per ton costs have not risen since the outbreak of war, shareholders were told at the annual meeting yesterday.

Where to Go Tonight
(As Advertised)

ATLAS—"The Invisible Man Returns," with Sir Cedric Hardwicke.
CADET — "Mutiny On the Bounty," starring Clark Gable.
CAPITOL — Mickey Rooney in "Young Tom Edison."
DOMINON—Mae West and W. C. Fields in "My Little Chickadee."
OAK BAY—"Shipyard Sally" with Gracie Fields.
PLAZA—Raymond Massey in "Black Limelight."
RIO—"Prison Without Bars" starring Corinne Luchaire.

'BLACK LIMELIGHT' PLAZA FEATURE

"Black Limelight" is the dramatic story of a woman's passionate struggle to save the life of her faithless husband. Accused of a murder, which his wife feels confident he didn't commit, the erring husband turns fugitive and leaves his wife to face damning public opinion and gruelling police questioning. Yet, the wife is unflinching to her marriage vows and determines to free her husband of the murder stigma which hangs over him if it is within her power to do it.

Raymond Massey is the star of this extraordinary screenplay and Joan Marion is cast as his sympathetic wife. "Black Limelight" opens at the Plaza Theatre today.

Major Bowes' Show Billed at Capitol

Headlining a stage show of novelty vaudeville acts, Major Bowes' newest touring unit will be the attraction at the Capitol Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Among the acts in this new revue will be Dave Barry, master of ceremonies; the Harmonica Bell Ringers, a musical novelty; Joan and Ernie, topical tap dancers; Evelyn Claire, lyric soprano and Edna Ditters, popular songstress. Others include Frank Duke, double voiced tenor, the Sinclair Triplets in Three of a Kind, and Doris Meislahn, acrobatic novelty dancer.

The screen attraction, "One Was Beautiful" starring Jean Muir and Billie Burke will also be presented.

'The Big Guy' at Dominion Tomorrow

Peggy Moran, whose beauty and talent are rapidly winning recognition on the screen, has the romantic lead opposite Jackie Cooper in Universal's dramatic film "The Big Guy" which comes tomorrow to the Dominion Theatre. Victor McLaglen co-stars with Cooper in the picture.

Supporting players in the cast of "The Big Guy" include Ona Munson, Ed Brophy, Alan Davis, Jonathan Hale and Russell Hicks. The picture was directed by Arthur Lubin and Burt Kelly was the associate producer.

'PRISON WITHOUT BARS' AT RIO

Alexander Korda's "Prison Without Bars," which opens today at the Rio Theatre, is one of the most vibrant and thrilling dramas to come to the screen in many years. Fearlessly directed, played, and produced, it offers trenchant social commentary as well as first-rate entertainment.

Adapted from a vastly successful French film of the same name, and starring the beautiful 17-year-old Corinne Luchaire in the same role which introduces her to French film fans, "Prison Without Bars" tells the dramatic story of what happens when a modern, sympathetic young woman takes over the reins of a brutally run penal establishment.

'INVISIBLE MAN RETURNS,' ATLAS

Second contribution to films from the city of Capetown, South Africa, is Cecil Kellaway, veteran character actor who earns his assignment as a Scotland Yard police inspector in Universal's "The Invisible Man Returns." The new mystery drama, with Vincent Price, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Nan Grey, John Sutton and Alan Napier featured, opens today at the Atlas Theatre.

'SHIPYARD SALLY' AT THE OAK BAY

With a highlight of the film showing the queen of comedy of the continent singing and dancing to a number called "I've Got the Jitterbugs!" Gracie Fields today in her latest hilarity hit, "Shipyard Sally."

The inimitable Gracie sings a number of other tunes in the film, all old favorites, such as "Annie Laurie," "Danny Boy" and others, to the rich delight of the audience. For when Gracie sings she puts a song over like no one else can.

CAPITOL THEATRE

All suspicion that Mickey Rooney was strictly an unusual personality rather than an actor vanished with "Young Tom Edison" now at the Capitol Theatre. Playing the great inventor as a youth, Mickey clearly established his right to being called a "trouper." He presented a clever portrayal, a human characterization. Young Rooney definitely demonstrated the fact that historical roles are not for adult stars alone.

Fire on Ms Nordal Bulged Deck Plates

Fire which was discovered burning in the cotton cargo of the Panamanian motorship Nordal 150 miles at sea, forcing the vessel to put back to port last night, was brought under control by the Victoria Fire Department and permitted discharge of the damaged cargo early today.

With hatches battened down and forward deck plates bulging from the intense heat created below decks, the Nordal tied up about 7 last night. As the lines were made fast, a pumper from fire headquarters in charge of Fire Chief Alex Munroe was alongside and four lines of hose were run aboard to check the fire. Streams of water were played into No.'s 1 and 2 holds, where the fire was located, and fire crews remained on duty all night.

As the charred and blackened bales of smoldering cotton were being hoisted out of the holds by longshoremen this morning, the extensive nature of the fire was obvious.

Many of the bales were partially eaten away by the fire, and the well created by the removal of the cargo was a water-soaked, blackened mess.

The damaged cargo was stowed onto a scow moored alongside, and firemen played jets on the smoldering bales as they went overside.

Several days will be required to remove the cargo, it was stated today.

It is possible that the entire cargo of 5,000 tons may be discharged to satisfy the underwriters.

HOW FIRE DISCOVERED

Capt. Hans Hansen, master of the Nordal, said his ship was 150 miles offshore, en route from Vancouver to Japan, when smoke was noticed issuing through the forward hatch covers. The hatches were kept battened down tightly to keep the air from the smoldering cargo and live steam was pumped into the holds.

The captain immediately gave the order to put the ship about and she headed for this port at full speed.

The heat was so great below decks that the steel plates of the deck immediately above the fire were forced upwards and bulkheading defects were apparent as the cargo was taken out.

T. C. Workman of the London Salvage Association of Vancouver, was on the scene investigating the possible causes of the fire today. It is believed the outbreak was caused by spontaneous combustion.

The Nordal is owned and operated by the Viking Corporation of Panama City. Capt. Hansen stated the ship flew the Panamanian flag before the Norwegian war.

The Nordal loaded her cargo at New Orleans, La., and Houston, Texas.

She was bound to Japan but headed north from the Panama Canal to Vancouver after the Germans invaded Norway.

Seamen Eluded Nazi Captors

NEWCASTLE (CP) — Forty-seven British seamen who escaped from the Germans at Narvik, arrived at Newcastle yesterday.

Thirty-two were from the steamship North Cornwall, 4,304 tons, belonging to the North Shipping Company Ltd., of Newcastle, which was captured by the Germans a day before the first Narvik battle.

Seven were from the 6,582-ton Blythmoor, and eight from the Mersington Court, 5,141 tons.

The men from the North Cornwall told how they had eluded their Nazi captors and joined up with men from the destroyer Hardy, which went aground during the first attack on German naval forces in the fjord.

They had been kept prisoners in the whaling ship Jan Wellum, but when the first battle of Narvik started they were put ashore under guard.

"We gave the guard the slip after walking 26 miles through the snow for 17 hours," Robert Gifford, second engineer, said. "We came to a village where to our great surprise we found about 130 men from the Hardy and a number of men from other merchant ships.

"The naval ratings had been provided with clothing by the Norwegians, so that they would not be recognized."

The seamen were accommodated in a schoolroom until after the second battle of Narvik, when they signaled to British destroyers and were taken off.

James Sweatmen of Grimsby, member of the crew of the Blythmoor, said their boat was stopped by German destroyers a day before the Narvik battle. The captain, two officers and 22 men went off on one boat and another 22 in another boat. The first party, it was reported, was taken prisoner, but the second made a breakaway and joined the other men at Ballanger.

U.S. Shipping at Highest Point

WASHINGTON (AP) — The treasury disclosed today that United States shipping has reached its highest point in 10 years despite Neutrality Act restrictions.

In January and February a total of 1,042, U.S. vessels cleared for foreign destinations with 2,562,000 tons of cargo. The comparable figures for January and February, 1939, were 932 ships carrying 2,264,000 tons.

The Customs Bureau termed this rise "striking in view of the diversion of American vessels from the war zone to Mediterranean, South American, African and Asiatic ports, and the withdrawal of passenger liners from the North Atlantic."

(The Neutrality Act prevents U.S. ships for entering ports of the European belligerents or a danger zone of surrounding waters. Norway was added to that category by President Roosevelt last week).

COMBINED LAND AND SEA TOURS

Combination tours by bus and ferry to and through the Gulf Islands, which have been an annual feature of the summer season, will resume on May 1, it is announced by the joint operators, the Vancouver Island Coach lines and the Gulf Islands Ferry Company.

The first Wednesday cruise will be an all-day trip to Port Washington on North Pender Island, through the Trincomali Channel and Active Pass to Mayne Island, and to Galiano Island on the other shore of the pass.

Passengers will have the opportunity of spending seven hours at Port Washington, or fours hours at Mayne Island on the return trip.

Special buses will leave the Broughton Street Depot at 9 in the morning, connecting at Swartz Bay with the ferry Ms. Cy Peck at 10.

These cruises will be operated every Wednesday until the season ends.

ILE DE FRANCE TO CARRY COPPER

NEW YORK (AP) — Maritime sources said last night the French liner Ile de France would sail from her harbor sanctuary here Wednesday morning with 12,000 tons of copper, the biggest cargo carried by any vessels from here since the war broke out.

The 34,500-ton passenger ship, idle here since last September 8, is expected to take her cargo to Halifax for transshipment to Britain and France, then head for Australia for troop transport service.

Admiral Layton to China Station

LONDON (CP)—The Admiralty last night announced the appointment of Vice-Admiral Geoffrey Layton as commander-in-chief of the China station succeeding Admiral Percy L. H. Noble. The appointment is effective as of July 10.

MEAT CARGO SAVED AS SHIP REFLOATED

LONDON (CP)—The 14,000-ton British liner Highland Patriot was towed Saturday night from shallow water off the southeast coast after having been aground five days.

Fighter planes had maintained a patrol over the liner to prevent attack by Nazi bombers as she lay helpless at a point where enemy air raiders have frequently appeared.

The ship was carrying a valuable cargo of several thousand tons of meat, later unloaded when she was towed to an undisclosed port.

Reuters News Agency reported Saturday night that an unidentified 3,000-ton ship struck a mine and sank near Drogden lightship off the Danish coast.

The Netherlands trawler Willy, 147 tons, is believed to have been sunk by a mine 40 miles north of the Dutch island of Terschelling, Reuters also reported.

The Netherlands steamship Helder, 3,629 tons grounded early Saturday at the base of high cliffs on the southeast coast of England, it was disclosed today.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Appreciable gains were scored by wheat futures prices on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today when the market followed Chicago's lead in rallying from early losses of almost a cent. Final quotations were ⅜ to ½ cent higher, May at 89¾, July 91½ and October 93½.

While there appeared to be a little investment buying and switching of holdings to deferred positions, most of the pit trading was confined to inter-market operations which consisted chiefly of sales at Chicago against purchases on the Winnipeg exchange. Only scattered export sales of Canadian wheat were reported.

CHICAGO (AP)—The wheat market today duplicated its action of last Saturday and rallied sharply to close with fractional net gains despite receipt of good rains in the grain belt over the week-end, which caused an early slump in prices.

Few Specialties Get Bids

NEW YORK (AP)—Traders bid up a handful of specialties in today's stock market and left many leaders without much support.

Steels and motors did well for a while, but even these slipped at the tail-end of the proceedings. Shipping and machinery issues were popular in the forenoon, although gains were shaded at the last. Advances mostly were in minor fractions at the close and negligible declines were plentiful.

It was one of the slowest sessions for more than a month, transfers running to around 600,000 shares.

London Market

LONDON (AP)—Small offerings were sufficient to depress prices in sluggish security dealings today. An exception was the gilt-edged list, which overcame early hesitancy and closed around ⅛ point higher. Rails were further unsettled by announcement the government dividend limitation plan would affect carriers. Losses of a few pence prevailed among industrials and most commodity stocks were marked down.

Deep Fjords Cut Far Into Norway

From time to time in my travels I have found a place of extreme beauty. Among these beauty spots are peaks of the Rocky Mountains, Niagara Falls, Grand Canyon, Lake Tahoe, Mount Hood, forests of redwood trees, the Lakes of Killarney, the Alps of Switzerland and the fjords of Norway.

Scene in one of Norway's fjords

It would be hard to say which of those is most beautiful, but two places have seemed to me most like fairyland. One was a deep, green forest in Ireland, with ancient trees whose gnarled limbs were loaded with moss. While in this forest I thought, "No wonder the Irish have so many stories about fairies!"

The other "fairyland" was a fjord in Norway. As a small steamer took me mile after mile up the fjord, I gazed at the scenes which changed one into another, and they seemed too wonderful to be true. Steep mountains rose from either side. The waterway was broad in one part, narrow in another, then broad again.

A fjord is an old river valley with a bed which is lower than sea level. Salt water comes in from the sea, and makes the fjord water salty.

A fjord is called an "inlet of the sea." It is likely to make a fairly good harbor for ocean-going vessels.

When Hitler's forces attacked Norway early this month, several large fjords were entered by German warships. This meant control of seaports, for the time at least. On the other hand, it brought on the danger of being "bottled up" and destroyed. It may be easy to get into a fjord, but hard to get out—if a war fleet comes to block the way.

Many fjords of Norway are very deep. One section of the Hardanger fiord is from 900 to 1,000 feet deep. A depth of 2,800 feet has been reported at one place in the Sogne fjord, and of 4,000 in another part!

Although a fjord may be deep, during much of its course, the water is likely to be shallow where it opens to the ocean. At this point it may have a depth of only 50 or 100 feet.

The fjords of Norway cut far into the country — Hardanger fjord is 68 miles long. Sogne fjord stretches inland to the Jotun Fjeld, 106 miles from the ocean.

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, April 30

As the month closes benefic aspects rule the day. It is a lucky date for signing contracts and for launching new projects.

Women should be fortunate in all their aims while this planetary government prevails. This is a fortunate date for girls to seek employment and most promising to heads of households. The evening presages for the young the beginning of romances. Dances or social contacts may have special significance.

This is a day in which to promote important transactions in all lines of trade and commerce. The seers warn that there will be intensification in international dangers.

France and Britain under the influence of the recent conjunction of Saturn and Mars will be determined to end forever all peril of future conflicts with Germany. Peace negotiations will be of value in assuring better understanding and closer sympathy with the aims of the nations.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of advancement in social and financial ambitions. Changes should be avoided. The young will be interested in romance.

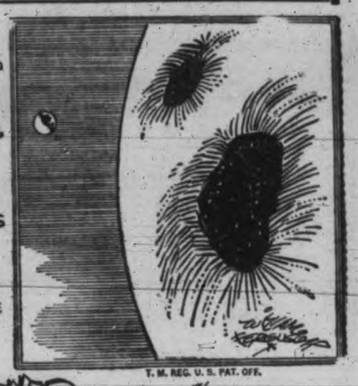
Children born on this day probably will be unusually bright and talented. Many of these subjects of Taurus excel in art or music.

FIRST BAPTIST Y.P.

The young people of the First Baptist Church will be hosts to the Douglas and Emanuel Young People at a social to be held in the Sunday school hall on Tuesday evening at 8.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson



ANSWER: The rain floods their burrows and drives them to the surface.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am keeping company with a young man who is very fond of onions and insists on eating them on the nights when we have dates. Now I love this young man very much, but I do not like onion on his breath. Would it be asking too much to ask him to refrain from eating onions? Or shall I keep on loving him and permit him to gorge himself on them as much as he wishes?

JANE.

Answer—Well, Jane, I agree with you that onions are not the perfume with which a poet would flavor love's young dream, and that a girl could hardly grow enthusiastic over an onion-scented kiss, but, still and all, I am bound to warn you that you are taking a big risk when you make giving up that succulent and odorous vegetable the proof of your sweetheart's love for you.

For, you see, the onion-eater is joined to his idols and when you ask him to give them up, you are striking not only at his heart but his stomach. You are taking the joy out of eating, the flavor out of food, and there is little affection in this unromantic age that will stand that test.

My earnest advice to you is to learn to be an onion-eater yourself, for onion-eaters, I understand, are immunized to each other's breath and hence are not offended by an odor which calls for clothes pins on the noses of the nononionists.

But, at any rate, settle the onion problem before you get married. It is playing it pretty low down to marry a man knowing that he has a habit that is objectionable to you and then spend the balance of your life nagging him about it.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am married to a second husband and have a child by my first husband who is very much spoiled. She doesn't mind me and I cannot make her do anything even if I spank her. Is it right for my present husband to spank here when she needs it?

BELLE.

Answer—If you have raised your child to be a brat, you should be grateful to your husband for giving her the discipline that she needs and that you have failed to give her.

Coal Operators Sign New Agreement

DRUMHELLER, Alta (CP)—Steam and domestic coal operators and officials of district 18, United Mine Workers of America, have signed an agreement whereby wage adjustments for the duration of the second Great War, and for a year afterward, will be made through a federal government cost-of-living commission, it was announced during the weekend.

Under the agreement, the cost of living as at March 31, 1938, has been accepted as the basis on which future adjustments shall be made. Adjustments will be made every six months, and wage increases or decreases will be awarded should cost of living fluctuate 5 per cent or more during each period.

Frozen During Bombing

ALLIED GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, Norway (CP-Havas)—This is the ironic story of a grocer at Namsos, who froze to death while the Nazi bombarded town was in flames all around him.

When the Nazi bombers started their merciless bombing which devastated Namsos, landing point of members of the Allied forces north of Trondheim, the grocer took refuge in a large electric refrigerator in his cellar.

The door snapped on him. The next day he was found frozen to death in the intact refrigerator amid the smouldering ruins.

Dit Captures Wood Memorial

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Hangar's Dit established himself Saturday as the east's chief Kentucky Derby hope by whipping a big field in the Wood Memorial.

Coming home three lengths in front, the son of Transmute won the honor of going to Louisville to challenge Bimelech in the derby, May 4.

He was by all odds the class of the field and a record crowd of 27,613 fans at the Jamaica Track made him $5.80-for-$2 favorite in the field of $13. The victory was worth $19,225 to Hanger.

He broke on top and made the finish look like a parade, as Jockey Buddy Haas, part of the 120 pounds he carried, held on. Mrs. Payne Whitney's Red Dock was second, five lengths in front of Devil's Crag, which John B. Pattridge claimed from Mrs. H. C. Phipps a year ago.

The Crag led Mrs. Phipps' Snow Ridge by 1½ lengths. A length farther back came Amblin' Andy K.

Along with the race came the announcement from trainer Jim Fitzsimmons that William Woodward's chief Derby hope, Fenelon, and Mrs. Phipps' Asp will not start in the derby. Both developed coughs.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md. (AP) — Tying the record for the mile and a sixteenth stake, Brandywine Stable's Masked General won the 28th running of the $10,000-added Philadelphia handicap Saturday, before a closing-day crowd of 17,000.

Masked General came on in the home stretch to nose out Mrs. A. J. Abel's Honey Cloud for the winner's purse of $8,100. Masked General covered the route in 1.44 1-5, equalling the mark set for the stake by Stand Pat in 1935. W. L. Brann's Aethelwold was third. Whichcee, the 6 to 5 favorite, faded badly in the backstretch and wound up fifth. Masked General paid $13.50 for $2.

Pat Haley Gives Sensational Show

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP)—Freshman Pat Haley of Trail, B.C., broke two Washington State College frosh track records, tied another, won four first places and tied for a fifth in a great one-man show Saturday, but, eastern Washington College won the dual meet 69½ to 60½. Haley's record performance came in the 220-yard dash, which he stepped in 21 seconds, and the 220-yard low hurles, taken in 24.1. He tied the 100-yard dash record of .09.8; took one leap to win the broad jump at 21 feet 11 inches, and stopped at 5 feet 10 inches in the high jump, to share the points with a teammate.

smart seven-hit pitching performance by Lefty Joe Sullivan.

The pace-making Cleveland Indians of the American League withstood a challenge by Detroit Tigers and won 11 to 9 in the 10th inning on Hal Trosky's two-run circuit clout. It was a wild battle with nine pitchers seeing service and Barney McCosky hitting two home runs for the Tigers, including one with two on in the midst of a six-run, ninth-inning rally that tied the score.

There were two other overtime games in the American League Sunday, Boston Red Sox being forced 12 innings to nose out Philadelphia Athletics 5 to 4. A home run by Jim Tabor was the eventual playoff.

Washington Senators handed New York Yankees their third straight defeat, 3 to 2, when Gee Walker singled George Case home in the 10th. Dutch Leonard, the knuckleballer who beat the champions the first four times he faced them last year, spaced six hits in going the route.

St. Louis Browns piled up 17 hits, including a three-run homer by Walt Judnich, in beating Chicago White Sox, 11 to 8.

COAST LEAGUE

Completion of the first month of play in the Pacific Coast Baseball League today revealed that Oakland and San Diego have had the scrap for the league leadership mostly to themselves.

With the season now about 20 per cent history, Oakland is one-half game ahead of San Diego, and five full games above the cellar clubs, Portland and San Francisco.

The circuit's one-two teams split a twin bill yesterday to wind up a series of seven games, San Diego won the seven-inning nightcap, 4 to 3, for the odd game after Oakland had taken the opener 2 to 1.

While the top teams were fighting it out, the last place San Francisco Seals came through with a double victory over the Seattle Rainers. The Seals won the first game, 4 to 2, and shut out the Rainiers, 6 to 0, in the nightcap. Larry Powell and Sam Gibson, San Francisco hurlers, were the reasons Seattle was turned back in both contests.

In the other northwest game Portland bounced back from a 16 to 2 first-game defeat to put down Los Angeles, 4 to 3, in a nine-inning nightcap.

The final game, originally scheduled for seven innings, but which went nine, was finally broken up when Herman Reich, Portland centre fielder, smashed out a home run to unknot the 3 to 3 tie.

In the fourth circuit contest Sunday Sacramento and Hollywood divided a doubleheader, Sacramento winning the first, 5 to 4, and Hollywood the nightcap, 16 to 12.

VICTORIA HIGH TEAM DEFEATED

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver Technical School captured the British Columbia high school soccer championship by defeating Victoria High School 3 to 0 at Con Jones Park Saturday.

The Vancouver 11 held a slight edge throughout the entire game, but both teams were handicapped by a downpour of rain which made the playing field sloppy.

Neither team was able to score in the first half, but both played a fast passing game.

Vancouver forged ahead after the turnover, when Dave Simpson, inside right, scored twice. Austin Beese, outside left added another a few minutes later to give Tech their third and final goal in the game.

Simpson's first goal was scored when he picked up a loose ball near the goal and blasted it between the posts. A few seconds later Simpson again beat the Victoria goalie.

Victoria turned in a brillinat performance, but were outclassed by the more experienced Vancouver team.

Lorne Fuller, Victoria's tall, rangy centre forward, was the star of the visitors.

Victoria moved within scoring range on several occasions, but were driven back by the fast-moving Vancouver squad.

SPORTS MIRROR

lowing the swimming game here for the last 15 or 20 years, there was an inside story to the girls' contest. Three competitors only took the springboard. All were members of the V.A.S.C. One had been diving little more than six months. They made lots of errors and most of the dives lacked finish. But they tried, in all their stunts, the regulation dives required for a championship. And, all in all, they did not do badly.

The three youngsters had been working under Mrs. Hibberson. In that position they enjoyed a particular advantage. There are few people in Canada more enthusiastic about the sport than Mrs. Hibberson, few willing to give it as much time and few with sufficient patience to carry their proteges along through the discouragement of hard bumps—and they are hard.

Back in the early 1920's when Louis (Happy) Keuhn of Portland was Olympic springboard champion, Alice Hibberson was diving in the girls' contests at the old V.I.A.A. outdoor pool at the Gorge. Some of the Portland and Seattle girls who came up for the P.N.A. championships were masters of quite a repertoire of dives. But that didn't stop the Victoria entry. Contest after contest she entered and with each event gained greater proficiency. Long after the others had retired from the lists she kept at the game. At the old V.A.S.C. she encouraged young blood to take to the air. When the Crystal Garden opened she switched her attention there. Now, from a swarming school of tadpoles she has picked a few of the older girls for specialized training in diving. And Friday night the fruits of her labors became apparent.

To Victoria's most enthusiastic diving supporter and to her virtually alone goes the credit for the current revival of interest in the game among girls. If June Stancil progresses far up the figurative diving ladder, she can thank Mrs. Hibberson for the start she has been given.

In the other camp, Young Rau last week showed marked ability in the execution of more difficult dives. He has a long way to go to secure consistency and finesse, but with steady work under McKinnon he can, if he wishes, develop class.

The Garden, with facilities far superior to any in Vancouver, provides a completely adequate training centre. The coaches are available. The kids are definitely willing. The outlook is bright for the game which professes the longest way round is the best way to get from a springboard into the water.

North Shore Wins Mainland Soccer

VANCOUVER (CP) — North Shore United captured the Mainland Cup by defeating St. Andrews, 6 to 4, in a downpour of rain before an audience of 1,000 faithful soccer-loving fans at Con Jones Park Saturday.

Mike McManus and Jimmy Love each netted twice for the winners, while Jimmy Spencer and Norm McLeod accounted for the other two markers. Johnny Craig, the Scots' inside left, found the net for three counters, and George Greig sank the only other counter.

Don Budge Scores Double Victory

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (AP) — Don Budge, red-haired Californian, defeated Bruce Barnes of Austin, Tex., yesterday for the United States open tennis title, 5-7, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3.

He then paired with Barnes, 1938 open champion, to win the doubles championship from Vincent Richards of New York and Berkley Bell of New Jersey, 6-3, 6-4, 12-10.
